Buffoons made the world go 'round
 All keeping in their shells
 Waiting
 Peeking out from time to time
 With a question or remark
 But all hiding
 What they were afraid to show
 Out of pride or fear
 And still seeing
 What others had to hide
 Without really hurting them either.

DEAR MR. JONES + STUDENT BODY,

Today DURING WORK ONE OF THE MEN THAT I HARDLY KNEW AND JUST STARTED WORKING WITH CAME UP TO ME AND SAID "LET ME SHAKE THE HAND OF A REAL RED DEVIL PEOPLE" - YOU SEE HE'S FROM KAPORIE. NO MATTER WHO OR WHERE YOU ARE IF PEOPLE KNOW OF A SCHOOL OR SUCH WITH A GOOD REPUTATION FOR SPIRIT AND MOTIVATION THEY WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER IT.

WELL GETTING TO THE POINT, IT STARTED ME THINKING HOW GOOD EVERYTHING IS BACK THERE THAN IS HERE AND COULD REMEMBER THE FUN TIMES BEING AT ELSION AND BEING A MEMBER OF THE DEVIL CONGREGATION. THE GUYS AND I HAVE WONT TO WISH YOU THE BEST OF LUCK IN THE SEASONS TO COME ESPECIALLY IN BASKETBALL THIS SEASON AND KEEP WITH THE SPIRIT OF ELSION! GOOD LUCK AND GO GET EM

 what do I say,
 But I'm really glad I met you.
 Take care of your fingers they are of the I'll always remember
 you,
 Good luck always,
 Bob,
 Mary
 Love, is in!

But '71-'72 was different
 From other years
 At least it seemed different
 Because everybody finally knew
 What was really hidden
 The hurt for sadness
 The shyness for proud things
 Always running after the goal
 And catching it
 Or watching it slip by

CORRY
to a guy
remember the divorce meeting I wasnt
in. Sorry I really more polite. you do a great guy. Best luck in all that you do.
friends always,
PAM MORLAN

There are some really
Tender pictures in here —
You wouldn't think buffoons
Would like them
Unless you really think
About it.

Corky
 To a really cool, lovable crazy, sweet + lovable kid. Be my friend always
 And I'll be yours
 Remember
 me
 Love

City's Super Spirit Survives The Split

The gymnasium was alive all year to masses of students in motion . . . clapping . . . cheering . . . feeling good. Led by class presidents, enthusiastic students united in a common bond . . . a bond formed and generated by competition.

Even with a smaller enrollment, the winning spirit unique to Elston, couldn't be reduced. Feeling the vibrance, streams of students engaged once more in an unbroken tradition as they rushed forward to greet the team and carry forth a proud coach on a chair of shoulders.

Game day frenzy, which reached a climax at pep sessions, was a final release of the energy stored to win a victory.

Above: The "Devil" is supported by a group of Senior guys. Below: Leading the cheers for 1,500 are Sandy Johns and Mel Armour.

City Enthusiasm Charges Devil Spirit

Spirit once again unified Elston. Helping to promote this spirit were the Rote Teufeuls, Cheerblock, and the cheerleaders.

Under the direction of Miss Taylor, sponsor, the R.T.'s sold pom-pons to raise enthusiasm. Cheerblock, sponsored by Mr. Mark, helped spread Hoosier Hysteria during the games by unified cheering and screaming.

The Varsity cheerleaders, sponsored by Miss Taylor, attended a summer cheerleading camp at Alma, Michigan. They won the Sparkplug Award and Spirit Stick, symbolizing spirit ability and team work in learning new routines.

Sponsored by Mrs. Calloway, the B-teams' cheerleaders attended home games, learning through experience and observation the techniques of cheerleading.

Jobs Found Through Youth Coalition

Money was the major reason why students traded suntans for sore feet and worked last summer. Although some preferred volunteer programs, most students worked for their futures, building savings accounts.

The area's job shortage made it difficult for many to find jobs. Through the Odd Job Corp of the Youth Coalition, students were able to earn spending money. Interested employers contacted the Corp, who chose a student for the job and decided upon a wage.

Class Parties Break Yearly Routine

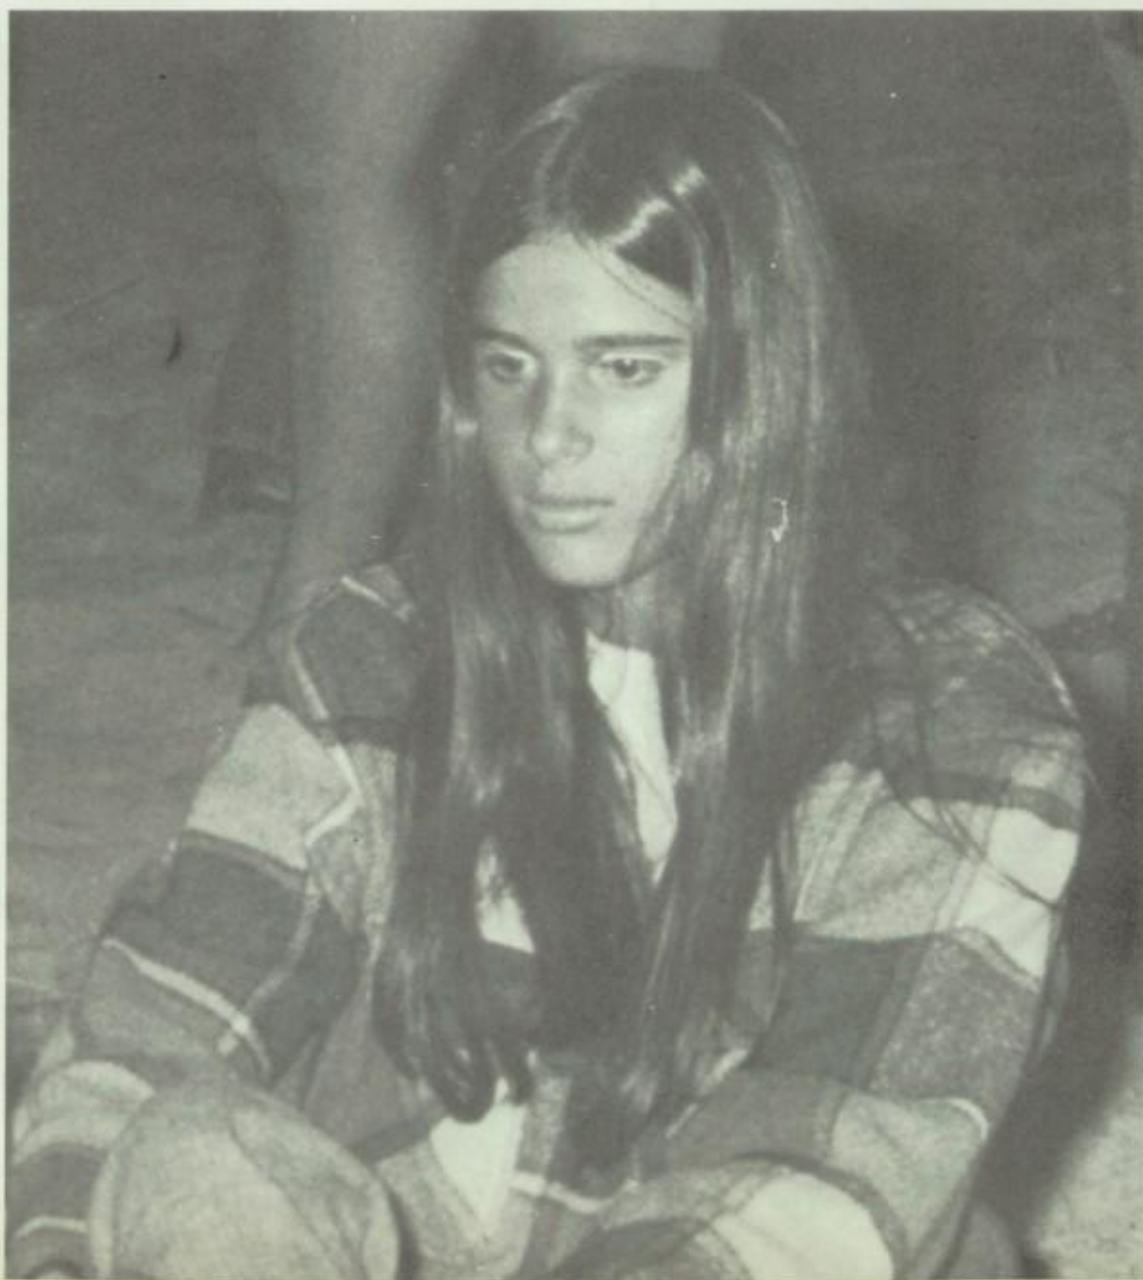

The Class of '72 held their beach party once again at Fedder's Alley. There were football games, bon fires, and swimming. Wet or dry — everyone had a good time.

The Juniors brought their summer to a close with a beach party, also held at Fedders. Some built pyramids, while others played football and swam.

The Sophomores had a "mod theme" party, with attendance at about 400. Some students danced, but for the most part there was visiting between Elston and Rogers students.

Diane Sacks Reigns As 1972 Queen

On a clear October night, Diane Sacks was crowned the 1971-72 Homecoming Queen. Representing Band, she was one of the five finalists chosen from the 33 candidates. The other finalists were Melanie Armour, Debbie Clark, Debbie Smiertelny, and Mary Kay VanLanen.

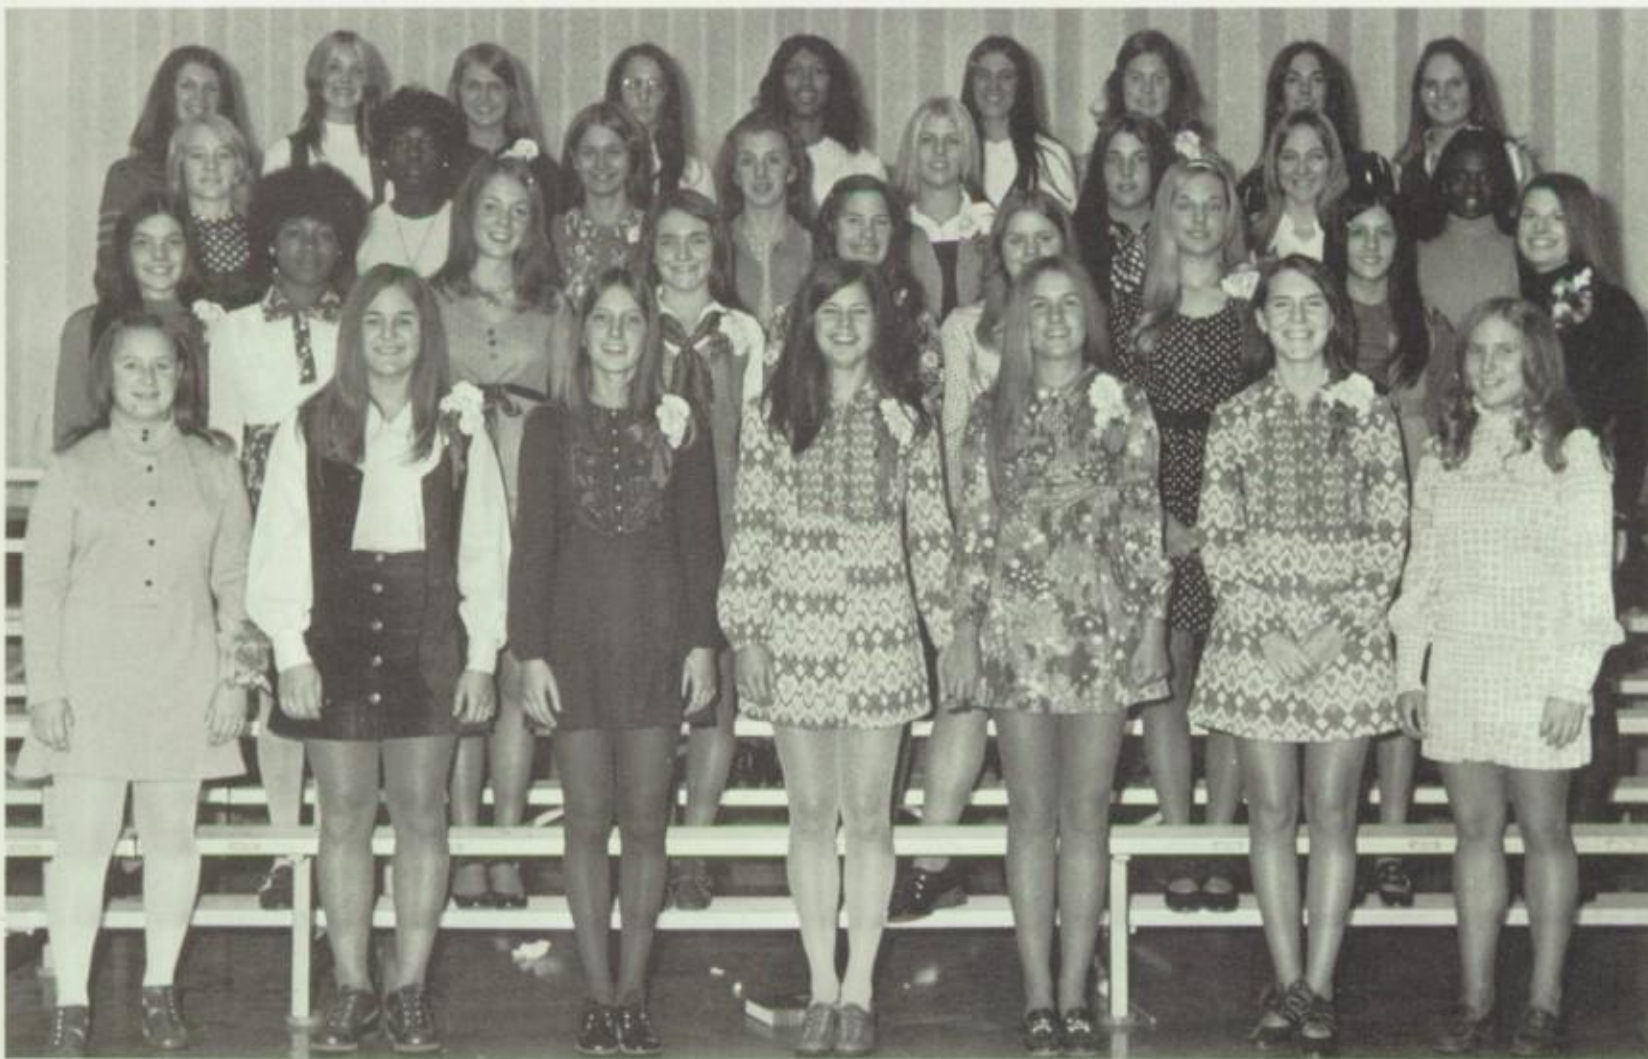

A lack of convertibles almost prevented the traditional half-time parade. To solve the problem, the Student Council organized a convertible hunt. After weeks of searching, a car was obtained for each candidate. The parade was a success and it didn't even rain!

Student Council Votes In "Devils' Den"

"Devils' Den" was added to Elston as a result of a Student Council campaign for a student lounge. The lounge provided the students with entertainment and a relaxing atmosphere.

The Council met every two weeks with sponsor Mr. Ash. Members wore Student Council pins the day before and of the meeting. This notified the student body that it was time to offer suggestions.

Snow Time Performance Includes Faculty

Both instrumental and vocal highlights were provided in the annual "Sounds in the Snow" assembly. A variety of band and chorus selections were played, ranging from the traditional "Victory at Sea" to the contemporary "I'd Like to Teach the World to Sing."

Soloists included Rick Carlson on trumpet, Mark Smith on clarinet, Doug Wiora on drums and Mr. Ash on accordion. Mrs. Harrison also gave her vocal interpretation of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" after Mr. Jones gave a surprise drum solo.

Cathy Martin Emerges As A Finalist

Centering around the theme of "Close to You," the 1971 Junior Miss pageant involved twenty-three girls from area high schools. Each girl planned her own performance and spent the two weeks prior to the pageant in a constant rehearsal.

Elston's Cathy Martin was chosen the 1971-72 LaPorte County Junior Miss by a panel of five judges. Her talent selection was a vocal rendition of "Yes, My Heart" and "Mira." She then competed in the state competition at Frankfort, Indiana, placing in the final twelve.

Junior Class Play Has Surprise Ending

A complicated mystery was the choice for the Junior Class Play, "The Woman at Dead Oaks," presented Nov. 12 and 13.

The action began when three college students, Fran, Judy and Bert arrived at an old, isolated house to spend a quiet weekend in the country. Soon unexplained things happened, the phone went dead, victims were killed, clues were found, and more.

The audience learned that Fran committed the murders. However, there was a surprise ending, for the real "woman at dead oaks" was a novelist who had written the whole tale in her latest book.

Comical Mystery Intrigues Audience

Belinda Pryde wanted Ramshackle Inn but she didn't want the smuggler-murderer-caretaker or the body in the safe. Being a nosey little old lady, she became totally involved in solving the Inn's mysteries, finally discovering smuggled liquor in the basement. Miss Pryde survived Patton's murder attempts and over-powered him with one blow of a wine bottle. The Inn was saved and everyone was happy.

Students Display Various Talents

Bill Grogan's goat survived and a speedboat sank a battleship in the 12th annual Hams and Lambs. Sponsored by the National Honor Society, the 1971 talent show included everything from a Zorro baton act to a 30's chorus line. The vocal presentations were popular and two new groups performed.

Only Music Could Create The

From striking Union members to a tax-evading, sneaky boss and women's libbers, Pajama Game was a play relevant to the times.

Production stopped at the Sleep-Tite Pajama Factory when Babe, the Union leader, clashed with Sid, the new superintendent, over the workers' 7½¢ raise. Besides causing problems for the factory, things looked shaky between Babe and Sid too.

Finally the raise was given, the factory restored to its former efficiency, and Babe and Sid lived happily ever after.

'71 Squeeze Raises $7900 For Charities

From doughnuts to dances, the 1971 Squeeze was a success. By scrimping and counting pennies, students raised a total of $7,911.53 for Elston's annual charity drive. The Seniors were on top with $3,228.84, the Juniors and Sophomores with $2,933.89 and $1,698.80 respectively.

Dozens of doughnuts were sold as homerooms raised money. Students donated their time and muscles to car washes and paper drives. The drive was brought to a close during Squeeze Week, which included Bastille Day, the Serf Sale and the awarding of trophies.

Proceeds from the drive were divided according to need among eight LaPorte County charities.

Canteen Quiets Grumbling Stomachs

Canteen fed the hungry while serving the school. Open the first ten minutes of each lunch hour, the Canteen cart held a selection of snacks to entice the starving student.

Sponsored by Mr. Dehne, Canteen members selected and ordered the snacks. The profits helped finance the Crimson Comet.

Store Expands To Occupations Building

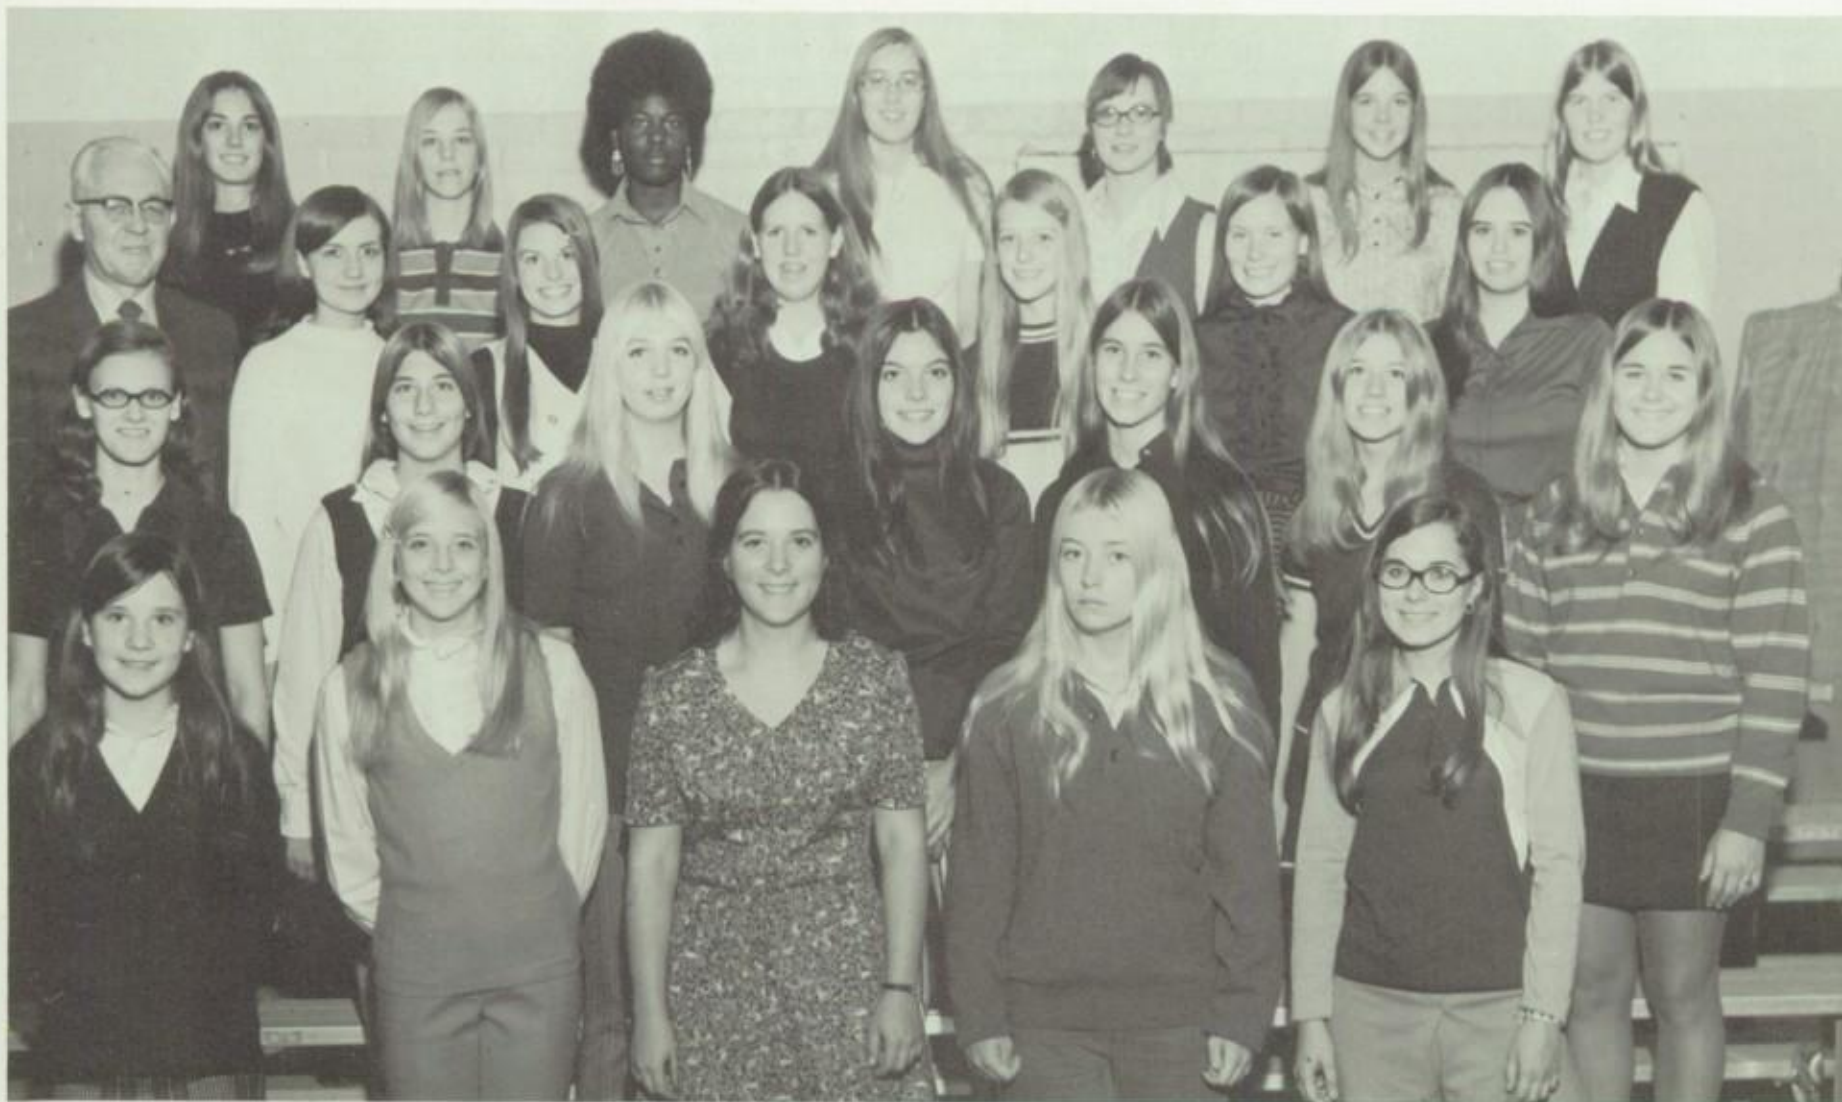

Students in need of writing materials had only to look as far as the Student Store.

With the addition of the new store in the Occupations Building, students were able to purchase emergency items without braving the elements by changing buildings.

"City" sweatshirts, t-shirts and sweaters were sold. Tickets to football or away basketball games gave Devil fans a chance to demonstrate their spirit.

Vendors Vanish From Concessions

Thirty juniors never saw a complete football game. They were too busy with hotdogs to worry about touchdowns.

The Junior Concessions workers attended each of the five home football games, earning $700 for their class. To avoid mass confusion during halftime, the pit was closed.

Three new stands located in the student, adult, and junior high sections were also opened, compensating for the discontinuation of the roaming vendors.

As W.O.R.M.Y. Juniors Serve Fans

Sixty ordinary juniors were transformed into colorful hucksters at each home basketball game. Sponsor Mr. Fisher divided the concession workers into sale team, labeled White, Orange, Red, Maroon, and Yellow. Each team of vendors strove to peddle the most popcorn because the lowest sales group cleaned the pit.

Also seen at each of the ten home basketball games were the ushers. They had the responsibility of keeping the gym floor clear of both kids and litter.

Clubs Help Promote New Y.M.C.A.

Fund raising for the new Y.M.C.A. was one of the main projects for Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y members. Car washes, dances, and bake sales were held for this purpose.

At Thanksgiving and Christmas, Tri-Hi-Y members made food baskets and delivered them to needy families. Hi-Y members demonstrated their unity through the purchasing of T-shirts.

91 Speakers Present At '71 Career Day

Elston's 22nd annual Career Day was, to many, the first day of tomorrow. Sponsored by the Guidance Department and the Michigan City Rotary Club, the 1971 Career Day was designed to help students plan their futures.

Ninety-one guest speakers were at Elston, describing eighty-nine vocations. The community interest was represented by nine local industries. Students were free to talk with and question the speakers about any job aspect, from educational requirements to paid vacations.

Students Achieve Awards

The 1972 Betty Crocker Home-maker of Tomorrow Award went to Nancy Beck. This home-making award was given as the result of a test, which included questions ranging from practical knowledge to current events.

The DAR Award was given for dependability, patriotism, service, and leadership. Social studies teachers selected Jill Luchtman to represent Elston. She then participated in state competition.

The Indiana Bandmasters Association auditioned over 300 high school musicians to participate in the 1972 All-State Band. Among the final 113, three were chosen from Elston Senior High School. They were Rick Carlson, III cornet, Jim Clark, tuba, and Mark Smith, III clarinet. The All-State concert was given March 12 at Butler University.

1971 ELSTONIAN Captures Memories

Forfeiting a Saturday afternoon in May, students jammed Elston's hallways as 2,000 1971 ELSTONIANS were distributed.

The original orange cover was met with various opinions, most of them complimentary. The books themselves were hurriedly glanced through as students demanded friends' signatures. The next few days the '71 ELSTONIANS were exchanged, either secretly or openly, during classes and passing periods. Many carried their books for the remainder of the year, trying to capture memories of their lives at Elston.

Juniors Bring Back 4th Century

The age of chivalry returned to this world when the Class of '72 created Camelot. Struggling with cardboard swords and waterproof water paint, juniors worked overtime to finish the 1971 prom. Some even overcame their fear of heights and balanced on scaffolds, attaching parachutes to the ceiling.

The set was finished on the day of the prom. The Class of '72 had succeeded in erasing sixteen centuries of time. The prom was ready.

A Sixteen Century Span Dissolves

Renting tuxes, buying formals, and ordering flowers were only a prelude to the 1971 Elston prom. Not only were there preparations for these material things, but there were also preparations of the mind. In other words, trying to keep from being so excited that you might explode.

As you entered the auditorium you were in a land of Camelot. The draw bridge was down to all prom-goers over a moat of real water. After passing over the bridge you entered the main room of the castle, complete with the king's royal chair on the stage.

Within the matter of an hour, or less, prom-goers passed from the time of the fourth century back to the now scene at Barker Hall. Suspenders were dropped, shoes kicked off, and everyone was ready to take it easy.

Texts Unravel Scientific Intricacies

Science students recognized a heavier emphasis on the importance of the physical sciences this year.

Chemistry and Physics textbooks introduced a newly designed course emphasizing individual work. The supplies of equipment were expanded to do a better job of demonstrating physical properties.

Eliminating all Life Sciences, Geology, Weather, etc., the new Physical Science texts, concerned only with Chemistry and Physics, made Math a major part of the course.

Students Gain Technological Insight

Field trips, guest speakers, and films enabled Science Club members to keep up with new developments in various fields. A trip to Baileytown provided the members with a chance to tour a generating plant.

For those interested in photography, Mr. Peter Eisele, a professional photographer, explained the complexities of the camera and the many different steps involved in taking pictures.

Ecologists Invade Dunes State Park

Earth Club was involved in the fight against environmental destruction. The students' outlooks on ecology were widened through the films and speakers which Mr. Schwab, the club's sponsor, obtained for the meetings.

The members participated in a bike hike to Dunes State Park for Elston, Rogers, and Marquette students. They also rode bikes to NIPSCO for a tour of the plant. Through these hikes, Earth Club members were provided with an enjoyable way to become aware of the true problems in their environment.

Math Unlocks The Door To Future

For those embarking on any career, mathematics provided an irreplaceable basis for the technological needs of the space age.

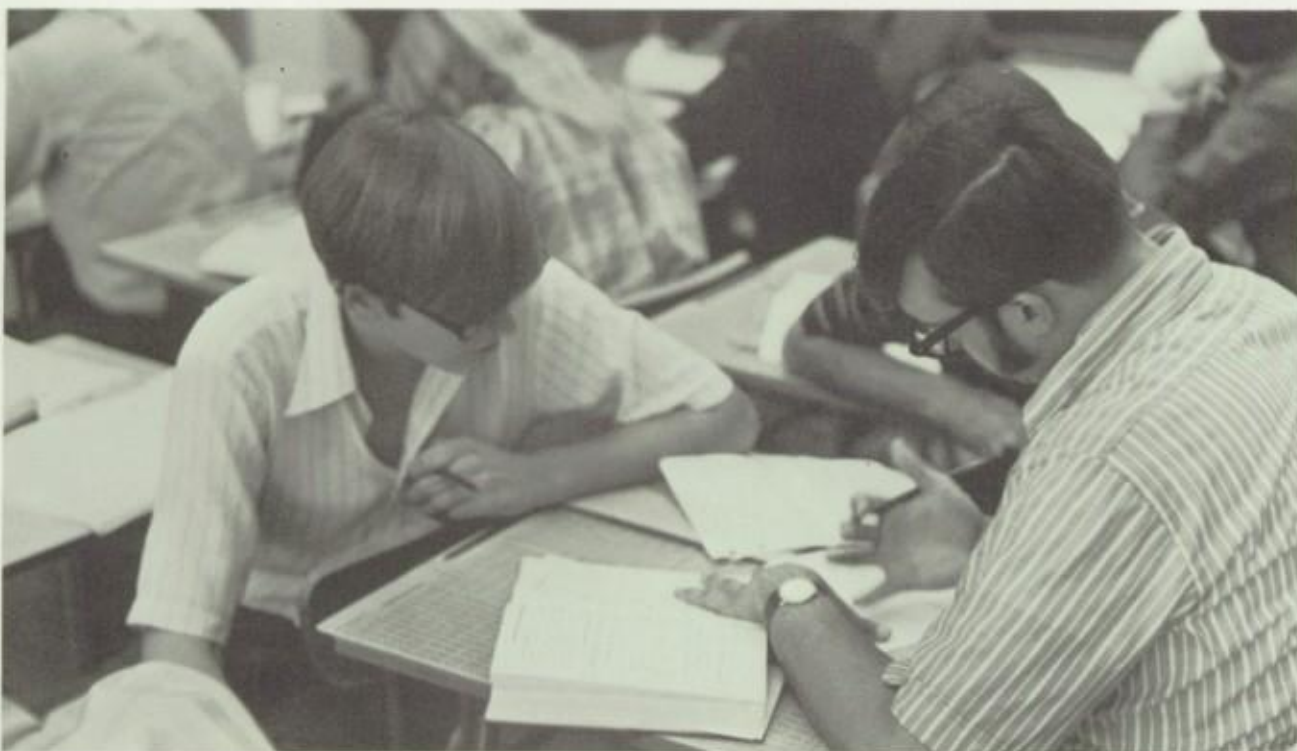

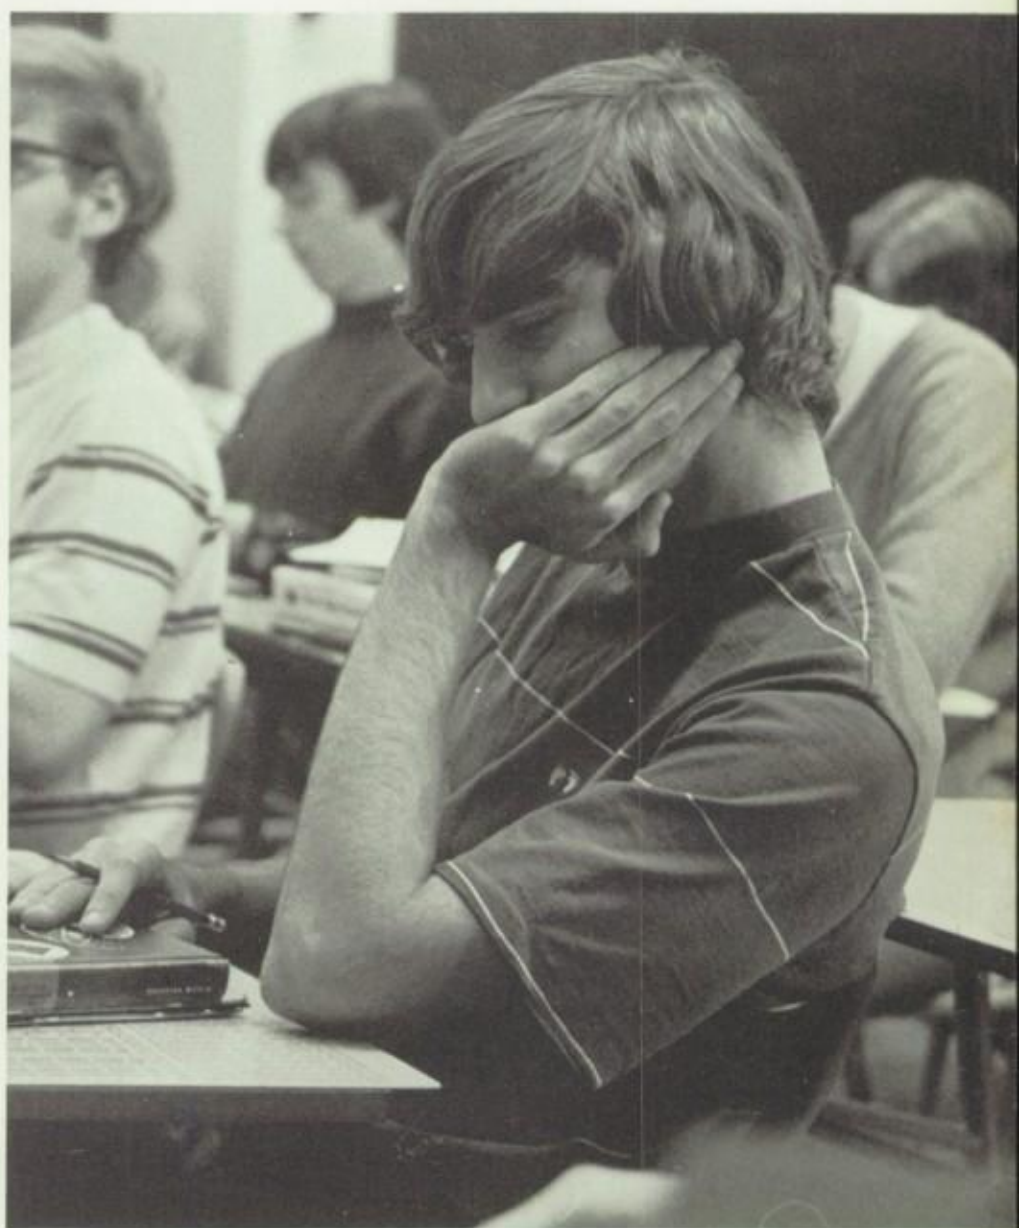

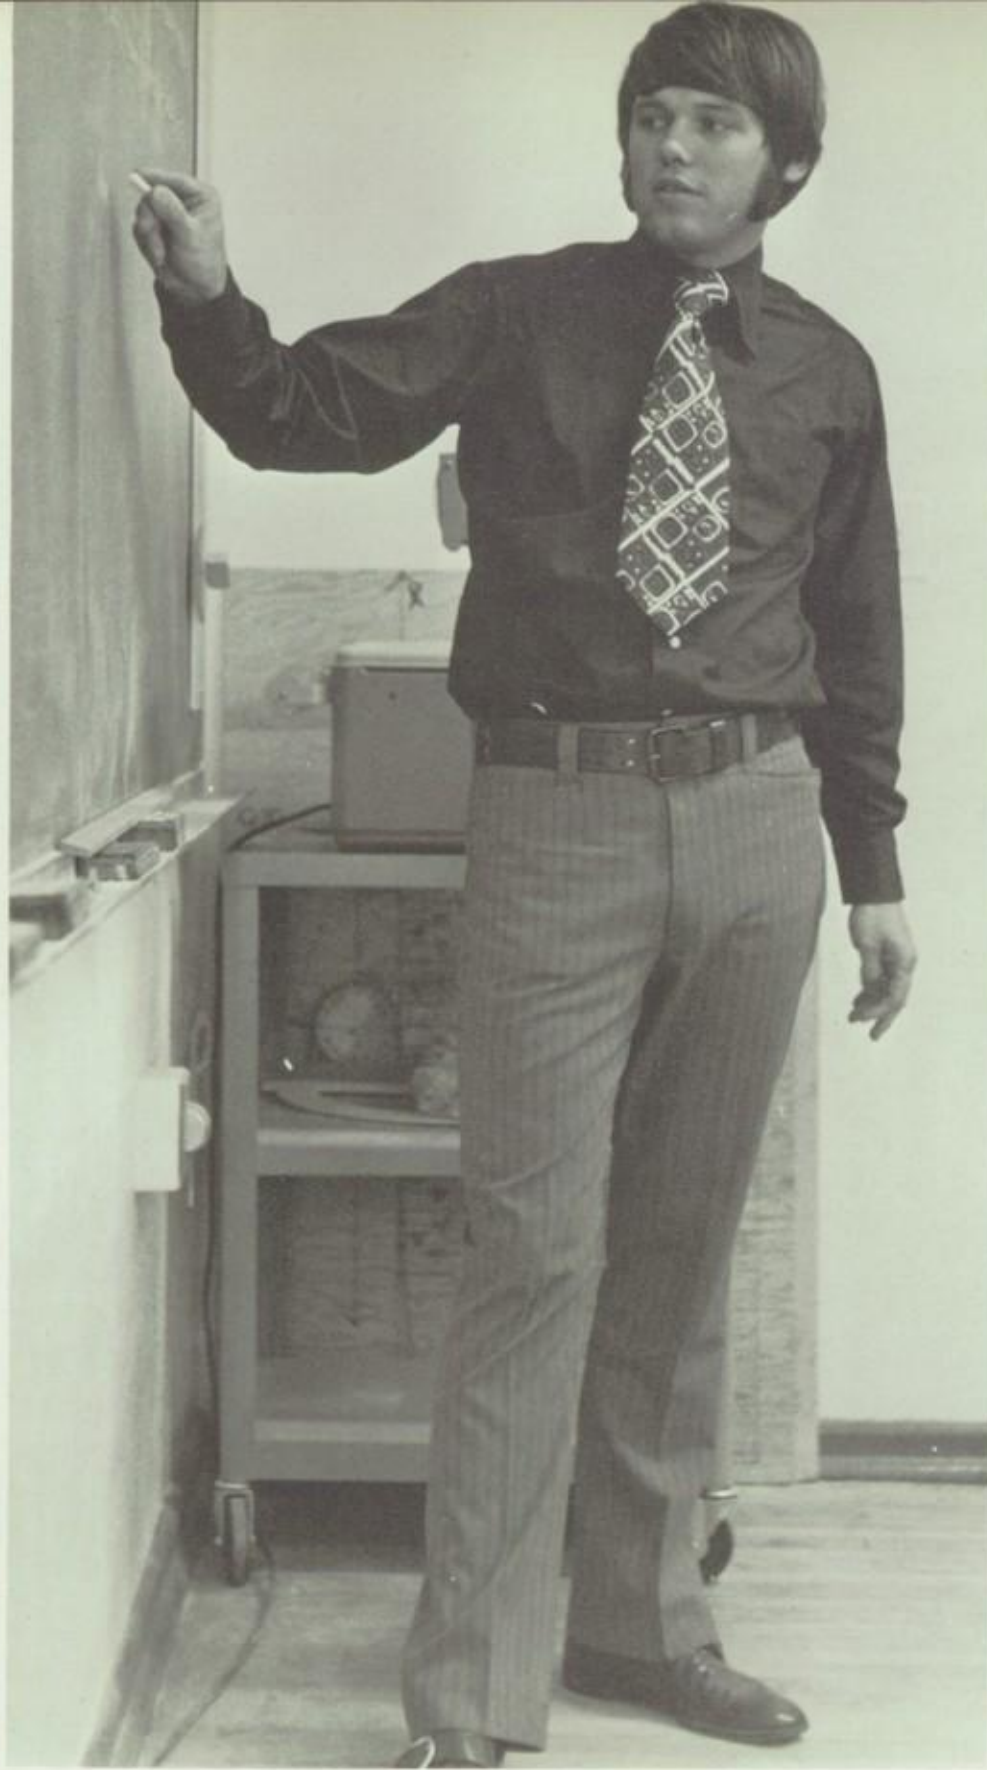

The initial understanding of the function of polygons in Geometry and the comprehension of real numbers in Algebra, led to the study of advanced math in the senior year.

Trigonometry, designed to introduce students to college math, this year offered Algebra/Trig for those who wanted to conclude their studies in their junior year.

Students Calculate Unknown Variables

Taking advantage of Elston's modern data-processing center, members of the Computer Club learned the fundamentals of computer programming. Meeting weekly under the supervision of Mr. Fisher, members soon became adept at making flow charts, punching the cards and feeding them into the computer. Problems were then thought out for the computer to solve.

Upper right: Curiosity sets in as Mr. Fisher observes students programming a computer. Lower right: Bob Finger demonstrates how to operate a computer as Adrienne Eisele watches.

Discovering the usefulness of a slide rule in science and math classes, many students joined Slide Rule Club to master the intricacies of this instrument. After learning the basic steps in operating the "slip stick," members were given problems to solve. These involved long multiplication and division processes, often complicated by square and cube roots.

Shakespeare

"A David and Goliath Fight" or "A Jezebel" were but a few of the many biblical phrases, terms and ideas that Senior English students grew to know and understand. Selections from the Old and New Testaments were studied in an effort to better acquaint the average high school student with the literary qualities of the book that has had so much influence on our language and literature.

For those interested in the performing arts, students of Public Speaking classes got the feel of working in front of a television camera by doing commercials. Some Junior English classes conceived the life of the Chinese through The Good Earth by Pearl Buck. Others tackled choral readings, script writing, and dramatizations.

Crimson Comet Staff Adopts New Style

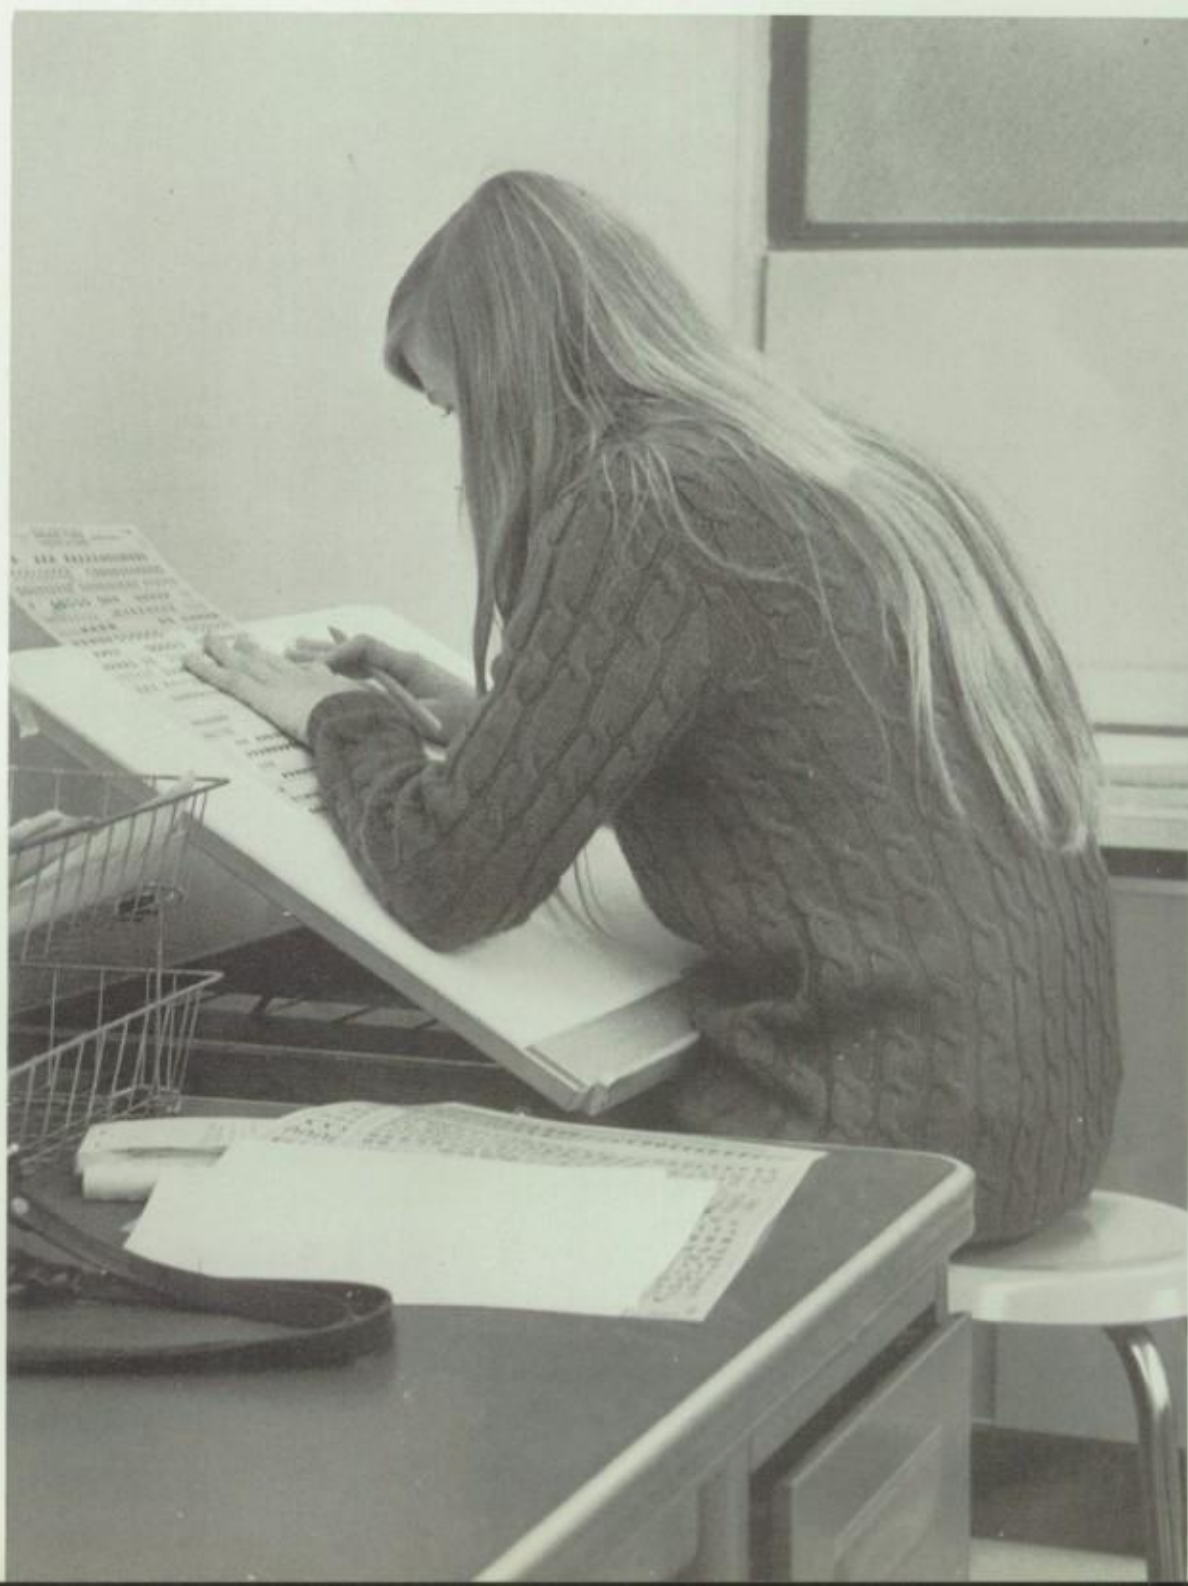

Crimson Comet's new name plate typified this year's newspaper, as many new elements were introduced.

The staff did nearly all its own work. The laying out and typesetting of the entire paper, including headlines, was accomplished before sending it to the printer.

An editor was added for each page to enable the staff to better coordinate the paper. "Our Reader's Write" brought diverse opinions to the news.

ELSTONIAN Ripens in New Office

Closeted in their new basement office, 1972 ELSTONIAN staff struggled to record an accurate story of the year. Learning practical jokes as quickly as layout and copy techniques, staffers survived deadline chaos and celebrated with spaghetti dinners. Under the supervision of Advisor Mrs. Schwab, Editor-in-Chief Ro Brown, and Copy Editor Laurie Radke, the 1972 ELSTONIAN ripened.

Students Map World Events

The tale of man's tour into time was encountered by U.S. and World History students as they took a look into another era. U.S. History students learned how Americans earned the privilege of democracy, and fought to preserve it, while World History students gained this knowledge on a world basis.

Senior social studies students acquired an understanding of the function and practicality of institutions and beliefs, along with their successes and failures. The Ash/Quinn classes put this knowledge to work in this year's city elections by proving instrumental at the polls.

Students Harmonize School Relations

Human Relations Club members met twice monthly to discuss the causes and solutions of problems at Elston. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Ross and Mrs. Calloway, members also helped to promote "Afro-American History Week" program at Purdue North Central. This included exhibits, lectures, and classes.

After finding a need for communication among Michigan City's schools, a committee of representatives from each of the five secondary schools was formed. Its purpose was to discuss how problems were handled in other schools and to attempt to correlate efforts to solve them.

Members brave the elements to attend "Afro-American History Week" program.

21 Travelers Explore Indiana's Past

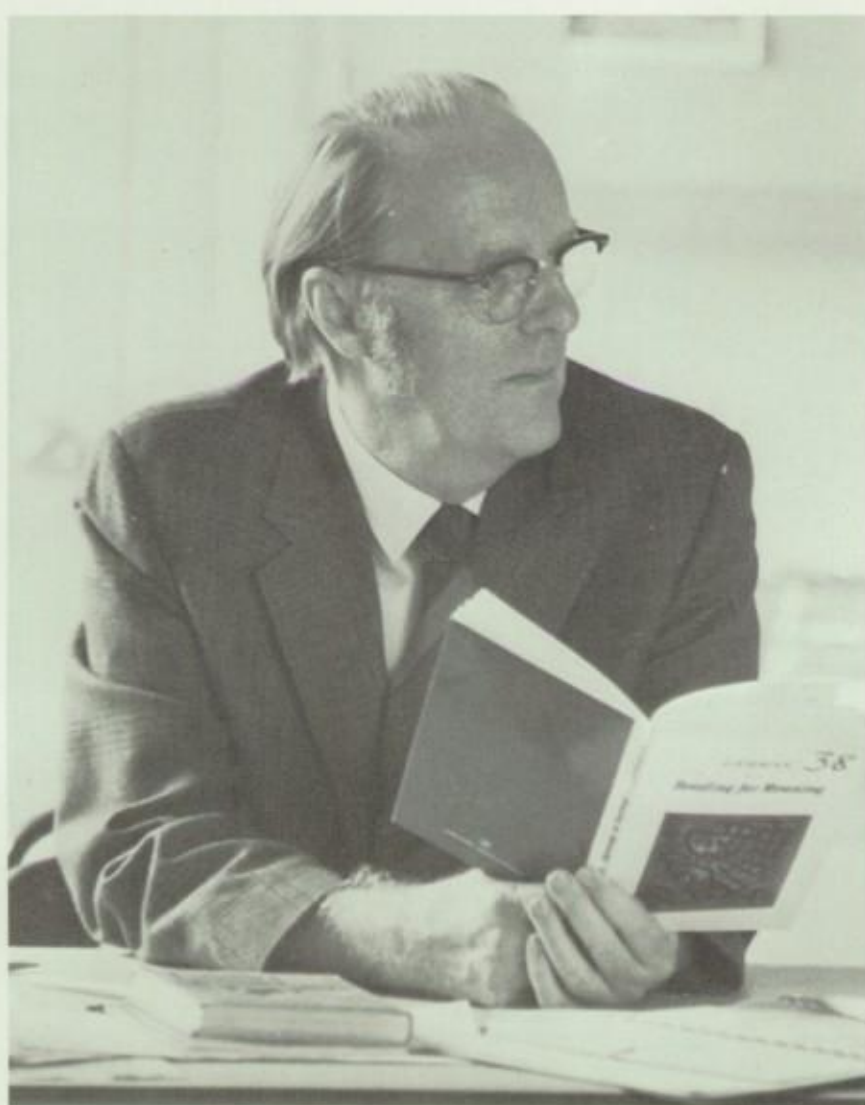

Hoosier Travelers, a newly established organization, was under the supervision of Mr. Rhoads. The planned activities of the club included a trip to the Amish Acres in Nappanee and the "Old Fort" in Fort Wayne, Indiana. The members planned a trip to New Harmony, Indiana, where Robert Owen established the first communal settlement in America. The club also sponsored a dance to raise funds for more field trips.

Languages Develop Global Awareness

A cultural awareness vital to today was developed in foreign language classes. The study of French, German and Spanish presented students with a new depth and a new perspective about their own language.

Many students laid the foundations of these languages in their sophomore year, concentrating on the inflections and gestures, developing fluency in the language. Those working for a major continued their studies for three or four years, mastering techniques needed for future study.

Language Clubs Integrate Cultures

Correlating concepts learned in the classroom with practical usage, language club students experienced new foods and different social customs. Christmas parties provided a chance to learn Christmas customs from all over the world.

Business Classes Go Underground

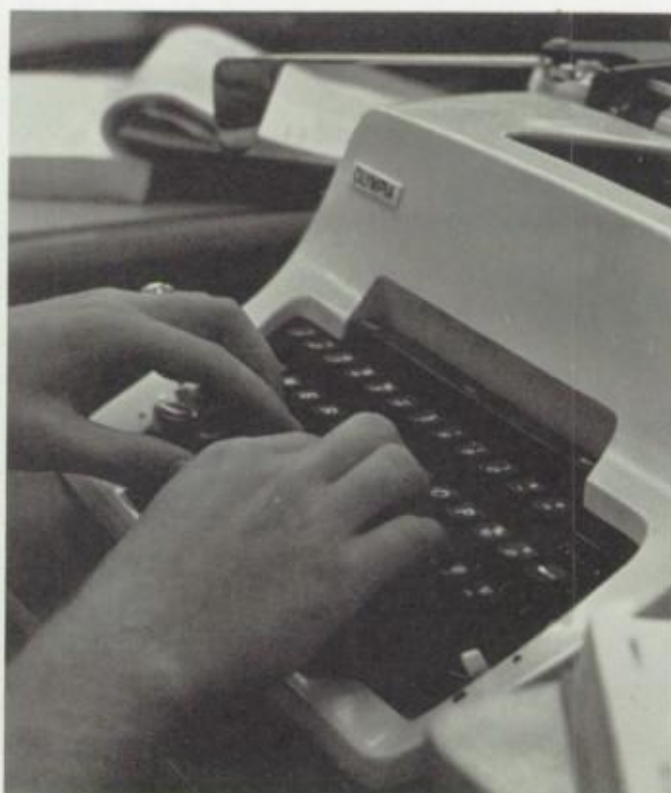

Business classes have been moving to meet a growing demand for highly trained individuals by offering a broad and diversified field of study. New classrooms and equipment in the Occupations Building have enhanced courses this year, courses which range from General Business, Typing, Bookkeeping, Stenography, and Office Machines, to Data Processing. Two new subjects were also offered; Business-Law, and Business-Math, which were designed to present the practical side of business activities.

Students on the Co-operative Education program took an important step as they worked at local businesses and gained experience necessary for future job opportunities.

Five Clubs Provide Business Experience

Elston students interested in vocational jobs participated in the national organizations of DECA, VICA, and COE.

Co-operative Office Education gave 23 girls the opportunity to work at secretarial training stations.

Distributive Education Clubs of America aided students in preparing for business careers. They raised money through dances and sales.

Vocational Industrial Clubs of America brought together students in business and health occupations. State officer, Debi Robinson went to Washington, D. C. to attend the VICA National Leadership Conference.

Aviation Classes 'Take Off' At Elston

Just north of Joy School stands the storage building that fourteen students of Mr. Brammell's vocational building trades class constructed this year. The finished structure consisted of aluminum siding, brick veneer and fireproof paneling.

A simulator greatly aided students taking Flight Aviation, which was offered this year for the first time. Other vocational students pursued courses in Graphic Arts, Welding, Mechanical Drawing, Electronics, Auto Shop, and Machine Shop.

Students Operate Media Equipment

Man often succeeds where machines fail. Audio Visual Assistants proved this as they learned how to operate public address systems, tape recorders, television equipment, overhead and film projectors.

Media Center Assistants were responsible for the ordering, cataloging, and repairing of films and filmstrips. Library Center Assistants helped in the processing of area schools' library books.

Students Learn The Joy Of Giving

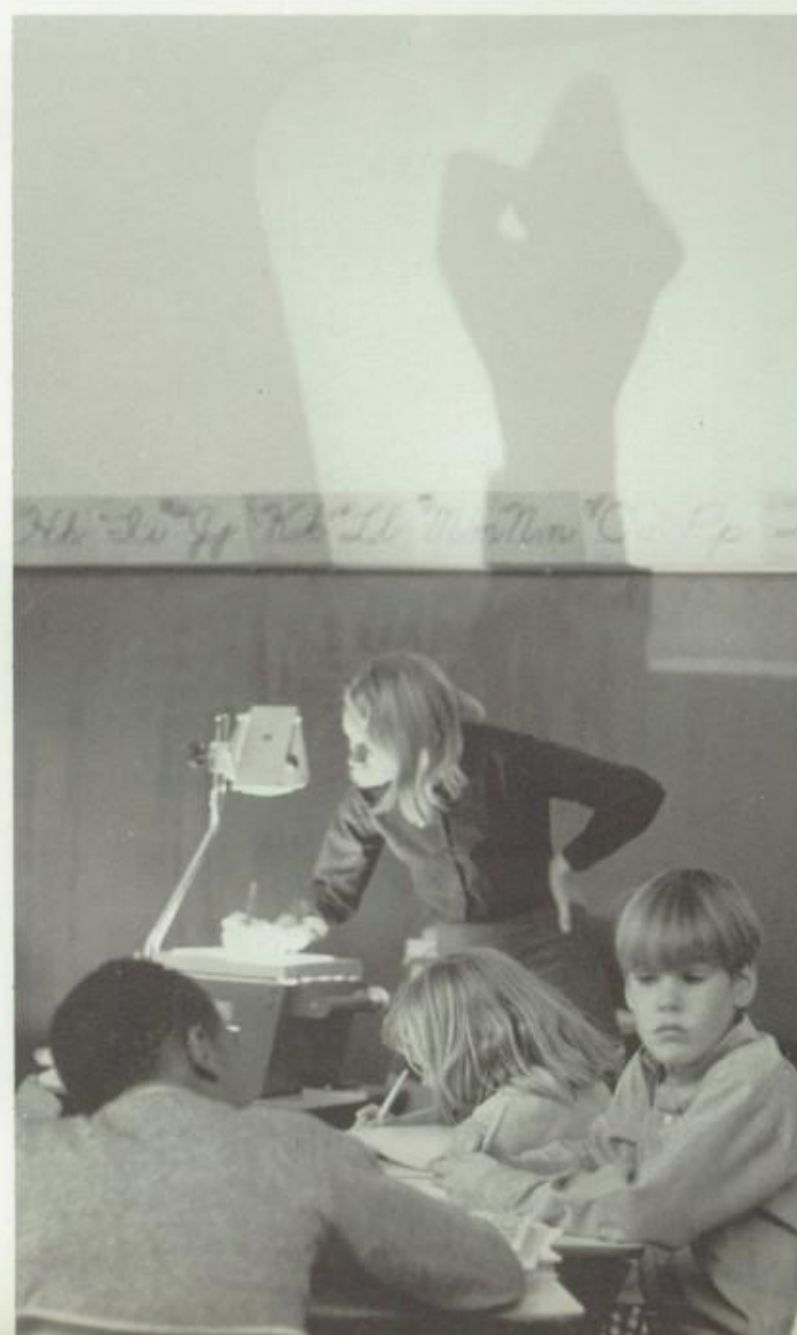

"To reach a child" was the primary objective of Exploratory teachers assigned throughout the city, as they tried to help children who were eager to learn and grateful for assistance.

Observing the children for two hours every day at work or play, students worked with one child, or a group, and sometimes taught the class. Time never seemed to allow all that the students hoped to accomplish.

Assisting the classroom teacher in daily work, special projects, and bulletin boards, students got the feel of teaching as a career. Students agreed that because each child was so different, Exploratory teaching was an especially beautiful experience.

Art Reflects Glimpses Of Truth

"It is the glory and good of art, that art remains the one way possible of speaking truth . . ."
— Robert Browning

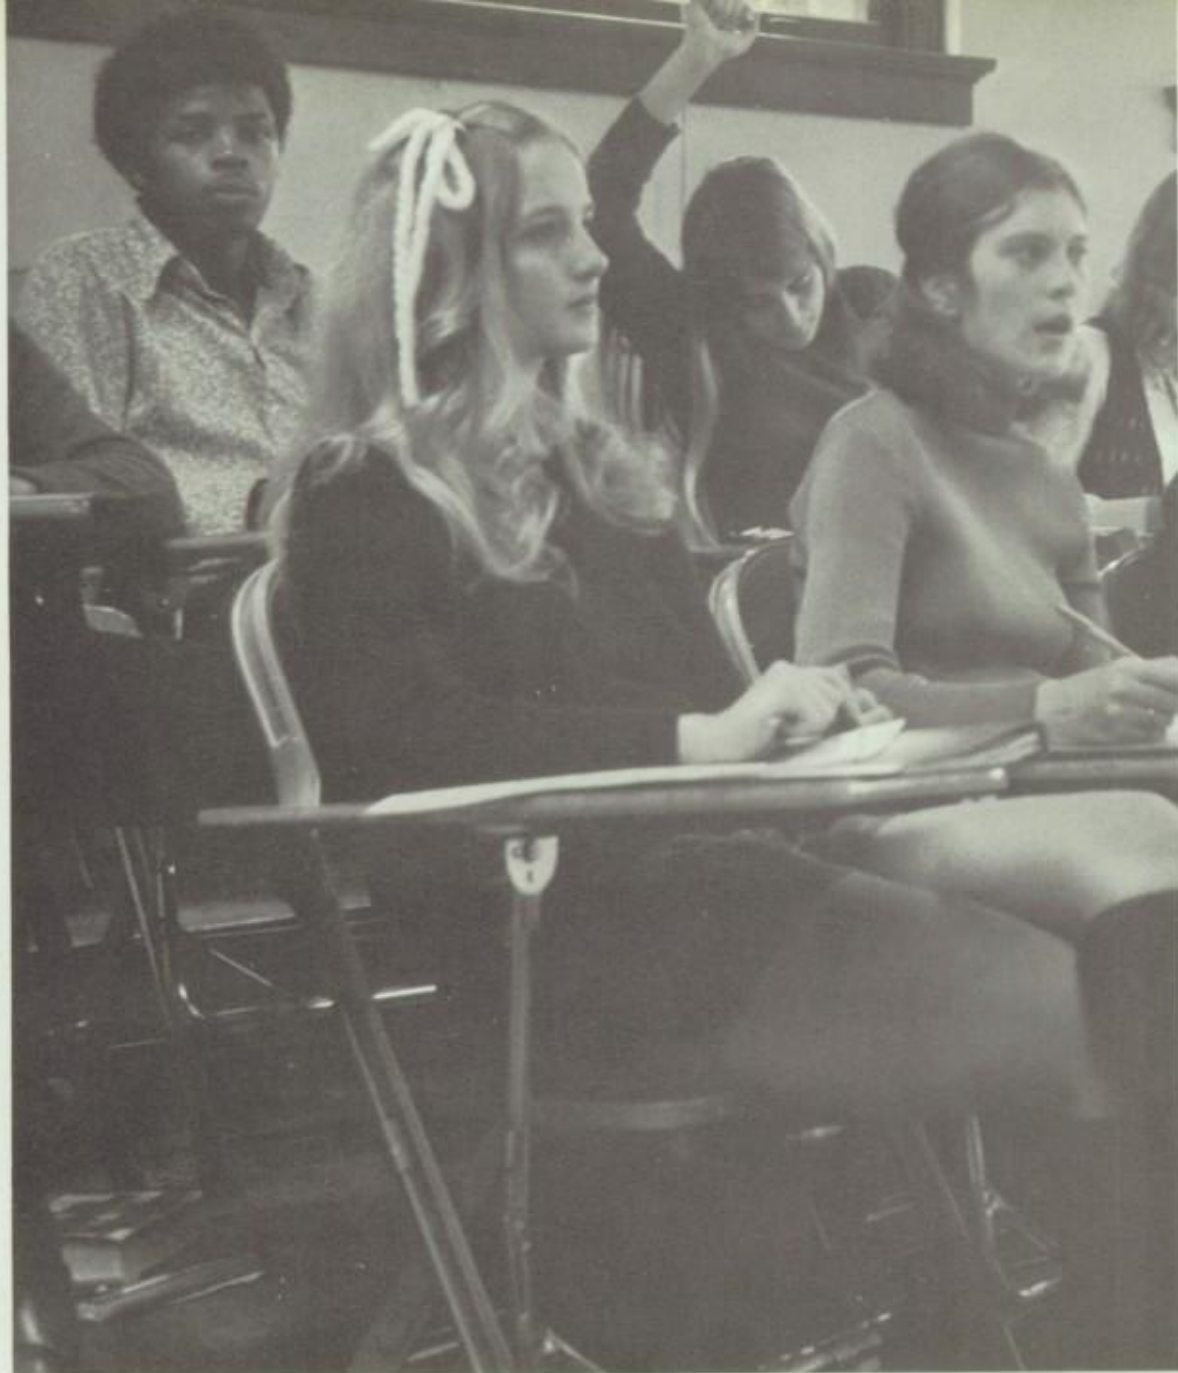

Using nature as a subject, art students created their kind of truth during outdoor sessions. Sketches rendered in charcoal, pen or pencil were but a few of the many outlets for the artist's expression.

Field trips to art museums and outdoor projects filled the hours of Art Club, organized this year for the first time under the guidance of Mr. Robinson.

Music Patterns Creativity

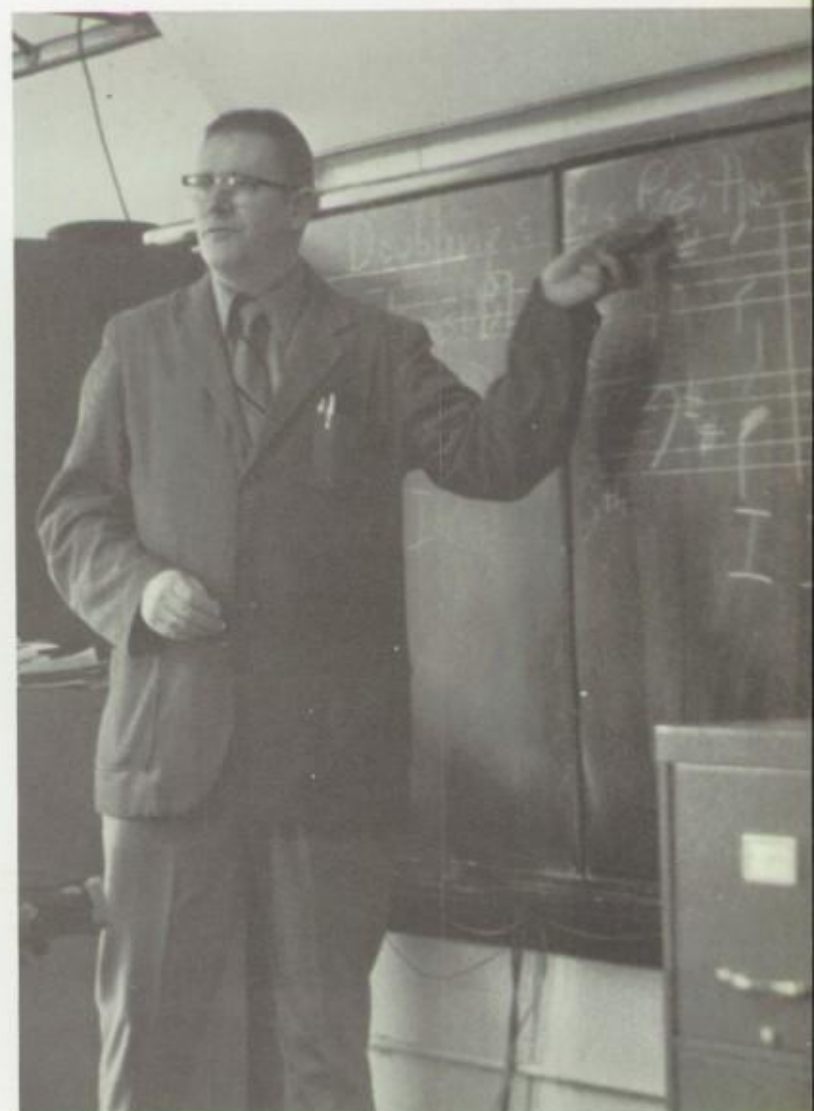

Students of the Music Theory class were given the chance to demonstrate their creativity through the writing of their own music. Diversified talents emerged as students advanced at their own rates.

Choruses Master Musical Scores

Entertaining fellow students with music was the main purpose of the 71-72 Choruses. Meeting each day, they rehearsed and planned such diverse programs as "Sounds in the Snow," a Christmas Assembly and public concerts.

Many members participated in the NISBOVA contest which took place in LaPorte in January. All participated in the Six City Choral Festival in Michigan City which brought together groups from all over Northern Indiana.

Bands Tune Up

The never-failing beat of Elston's Pep, Marching, and Symphonic Bands was the backbone of the year's events. Under the leadership of Mr. Johns, their achievements included "Sounds in the Snow," Christmas Concerts, and the recruiting of new players from a nearby Jr. High School.

Marching Devilettes Synchronize Steps

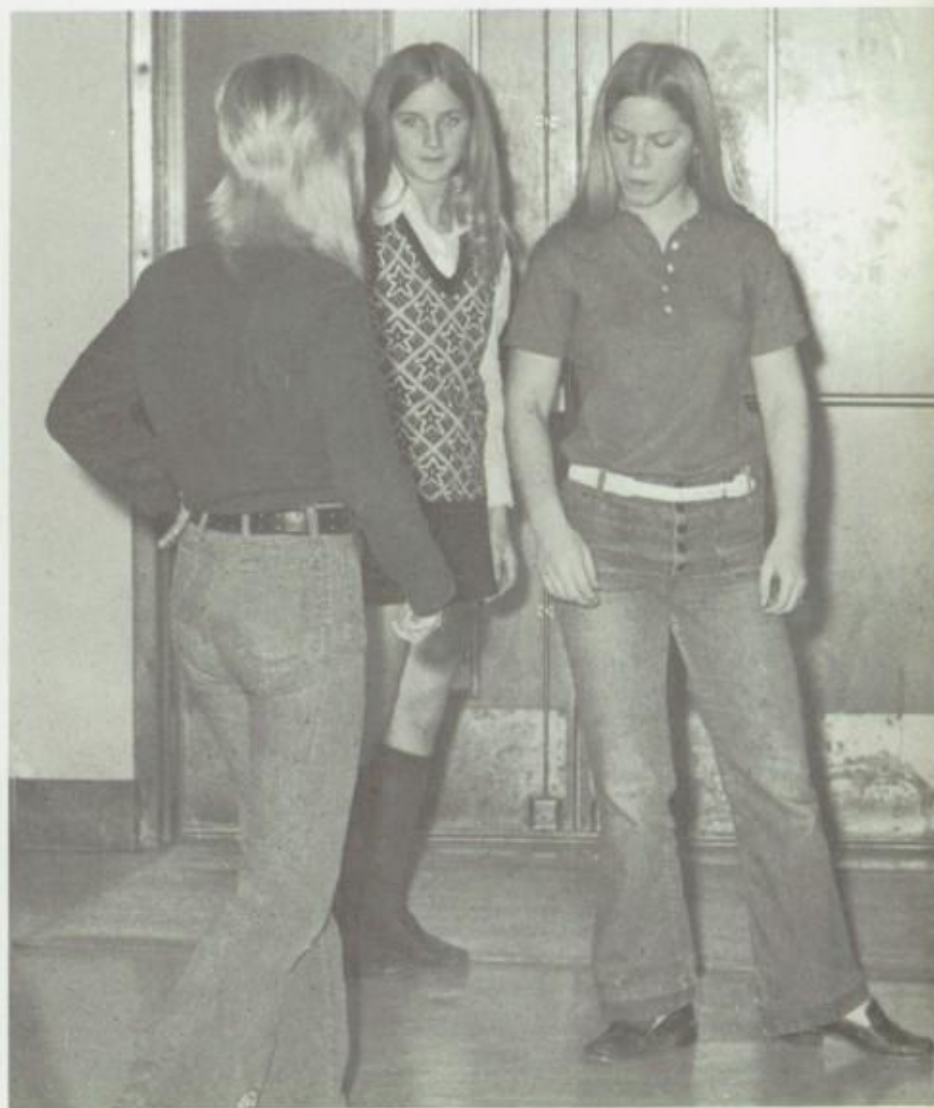

The combination of a new name and new routines was used to focus attention on the Devilettes, Elston's majorettes. These seventeen girls met four times weekly to develop and practice routines. The flag-waving, military and pom-pon maneuvers were then performed at half-times of both football and basketball home games.

Students Overcome Adulthood Jitters

Designing the future, students formed the basic standards for adult responsibility through this year's Home Economics courses.

Design for Living, a course directed towards girls interested in becoming good wives and mothers, attempted a "creative home arts" project consisting of knitting, crocheting, decoupage, and floral arranging. It is hoped that this course will be expanded to include men's interests.

Foods classes gained a sense of personal achievement by making and decorating eight birthday cakes a month for Head Start children. They also sold Christmas cookies to the faculty. Clothing classes practiced sewing skills by making drapes for their room.

Fashionettes Find Sewing Freedom

Students interested in combining creativity with sewing knowledge for service projects and fashion shows composed Fashionette Club. Much of the year was spent making stuffed animals for Christmas gifts and planning for the Spring Style Show. The theme of the show, "A Salute To The Flag And Fashion" gave members a chance to create a patriotic program.

P.E. Classes Merge

Co-ed classes invaded the Physical Education course this year, organizing volleyball and badminton confrontations under the direction of Miss Taylor and Mr. Lambert. Small classes made this a successful attempt at doing away with the "boys on one side, girls on the other."

Circuit training, the unit on physical fitness introduced to the guys by Mr. Lambert, consisted of workouts on the parallel bars, pull-up bars, and muscle builders. Miss Taylor's girls perfected body grace through gymnastics and team sports.

Tomorrow's Drivers Learn Today

The complete revamping of the Health and Safety courses this year combined them into a one year course, stressing health and safety in the home or on a job. Units on ecology, water safety, and venereal disease were also added in an effort to keep students abreast of current health problems.

A new schedule was set up whereby students rotated from car to class to simulator during the week. The simulator, designed with a basic car dash, strived through films to anticipate dangerous situations a driver faces, and to introduce the car and the stick shift to new drivers. It provided valuable discussion time not available in a Driver's Ed. car.

Dahlites Reorganize Library Materials

Under the direction of Mrs. Mankin, Dahlites provided needed assistance for the librarians. Their study hall hour each day was spent keeping books mended, stamped, and shelved.

"Dusting parties" were held to help in keeping the library clean. The girls decorated the library for the Christmas season and National Library week.

The annual exchange party was hosted by LaPorte Library Assistants.

Deafening Silence Fills The Halls

Hall traffic was reduced as a result of the daily enforcement of the "clear-halls-at-all-times" policy by the hall monitors. Checking passes, they kept the halls free of all loiterers and guarded the entrances, admitting students before school and during the lunch hour. These students used either their study hall or lunch hour for this task.

Rapid Responses Influence Outcome

Students who joined Elston Bowl soon learned that intelligence alone wouldn't assure them of success. A broad knowledge of trivial facts along with quick reflexes drove contestants to victory.

Sponsored by Mr. Nonken, Elston Bowl tested participants' knowledge over a variety of subjects. Teams of three competed in thirty question rounds, eliminating their opponents until only four groups remained. The last three games were then videotaped so the student body could watch as the ultimate winner, Mr. Donoghue's team of Mark Schnurle, Cathy Martin, and Teresa Maksyan, emerged.

Honor Society Provides School Service

When candidates were told of their membership in Honor Society, they found their work was just beginning. New members ushered at commencement and the Miss Indiana Pageant. They hosted Summer Festival Parade bands. With the start of school came the Honor Society-sponsored Sophomore Assembly, Dad's Night, Back-to-School Night, and Hams and Lambs.

Members were chosen on the basis of leadership, character, scholarship, and service. They proved they were worthy of membership through their participation in these projects throughout the year.

Devils Give Slicers Rough Time

Although City was not a football standout, individual players were recognized. Seniors Don Thomas, Dick Buell, and Ron Meer were named to the all-conference team, with Mel Yoder and Matt Henry as honorary. Thomas was also named the second most valuable player in Northern Indiana Conference; the closest a lineman has come in 20 years. Later, Buell made the all-state team with Thomas earning honorable mention.

The 1-9 season had some highlights, such as holding 4th ranked LaPorte to a 7-0 first half. For the entire season, the football squad only committed 29 penalties to the opponents 70. Devil yardage in kick-off returns was 209 yards better than that gained by their adversaries.

B-Team Faces Difficult Season

Elston's B-team faced an unusual situation this year — the school split. The actual team consisted of the sophomores on the varsity squad. Many times, only 14 men would show up for a game; not nearly enough to make an all out effort. Inexperience was another factor which plagued the Sandburrs' performance. The result was a 0-6 season.

Posting a 10-4 season, Coach McAnally and his Cross Country team proved their ability with another winning year. Highlights were a sixth man win over Hammond Noll, and a close defeat by LaPorte. In the conference aspect, they were victorious over South Bend Washington, Mishawaka, and South Bend Riley but losses to the other conference teams of Elkhart, South Bend Adams and LaPorte spoiled the record.

Tennis Team Produces Eight Lettermen

Although the tennis team had a disappointing season, eight players lettered. Winning 6-1 over South Bend Riley, seniors Greg Gotto, Tom Anderson, Steve Parkman, Kris Depner, and Bill Stark brought in the necessary scores. Other Devil victories were Hobart, Rogers, and conference win with South Bend Washington. Seniors Ernie Summers, Evan Hughes, Bob Romeril and Bob Finger were the strong back-up crew. The team went on to place 5th in the Conference Singles, and later 7th in the sectional.

The Undefeated Red Devils Continue To

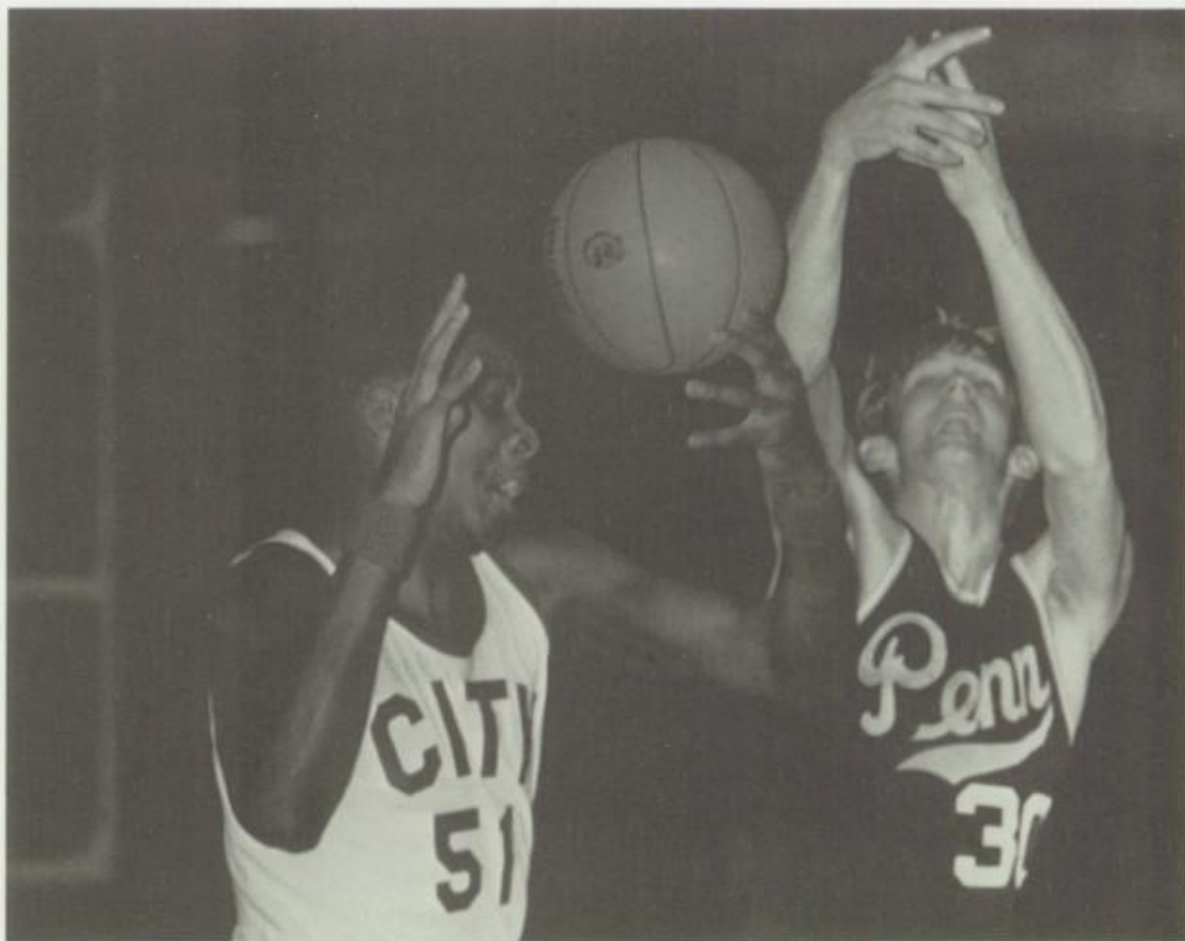

For the first time in the history of Elston, the Devils ended seasonal play absolutely victorious. In seven games, the undefeated Devils scored at least 100 points, plus scoring over 90 in an additional 6. Individual players helped to make this record possible. The team's highest scorer, Al Fleming, earned 452 points, 112 of which were free throws. Mark Adams scored 273 with Don Thomas, a starter late in the season, having 270 points. Other members of the Devil squad having over 200 points were Don Edmond and John Willey.

In the rebounding department, City far outshone their opponents. Defensively, the Devils were 232 better while offensively only 192. Al Fleming was City's best rebounder with 176 D. and 124 O.

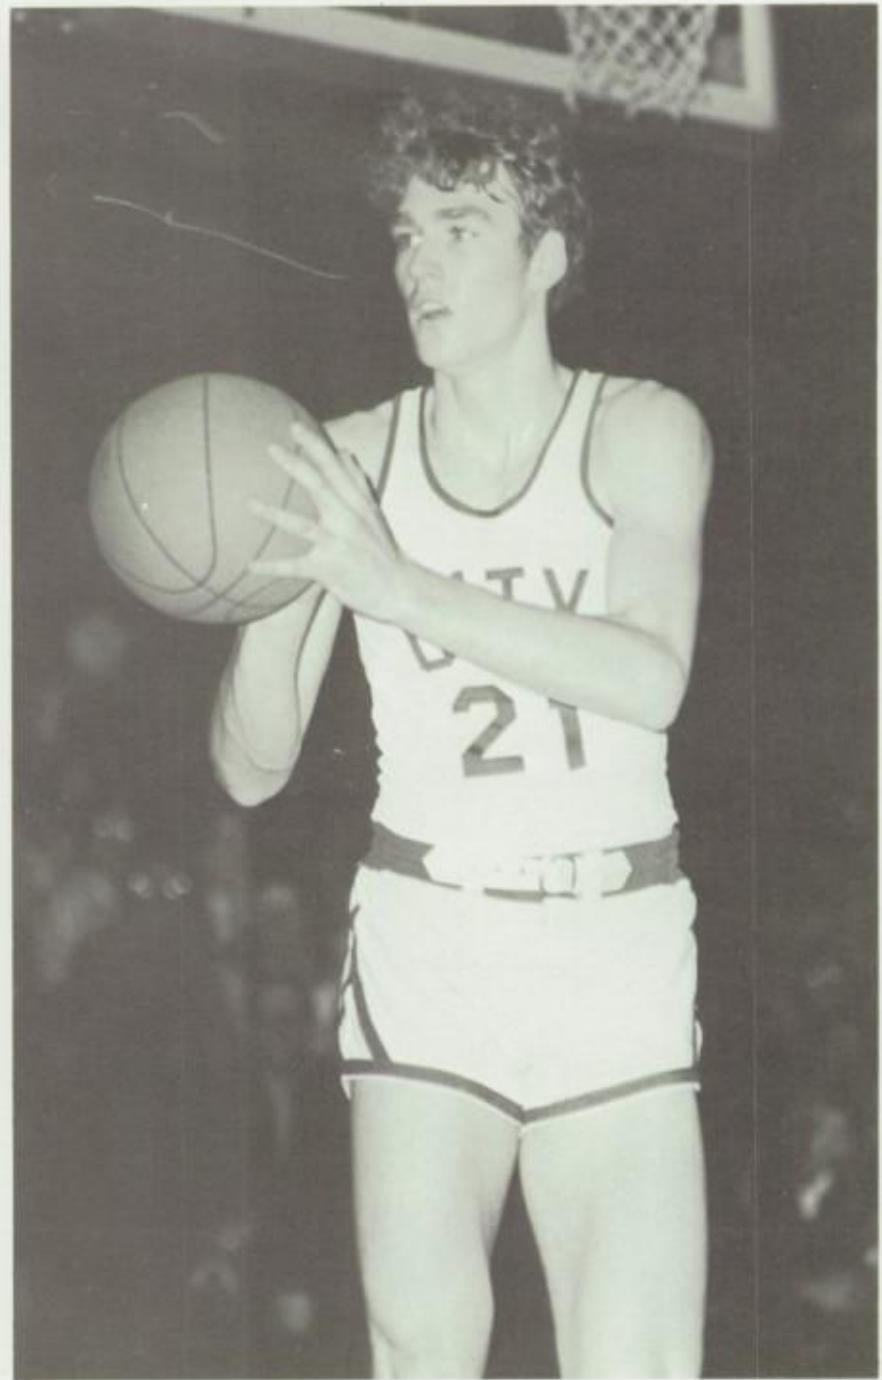

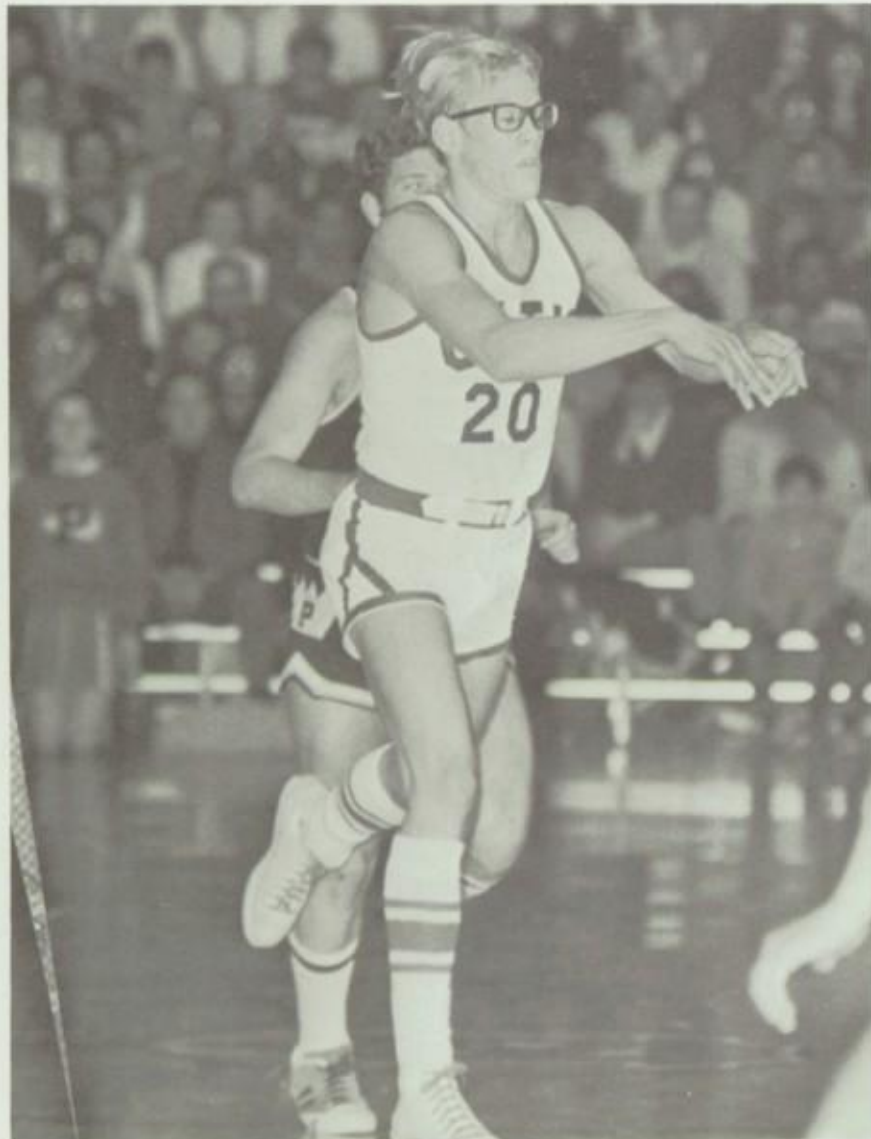

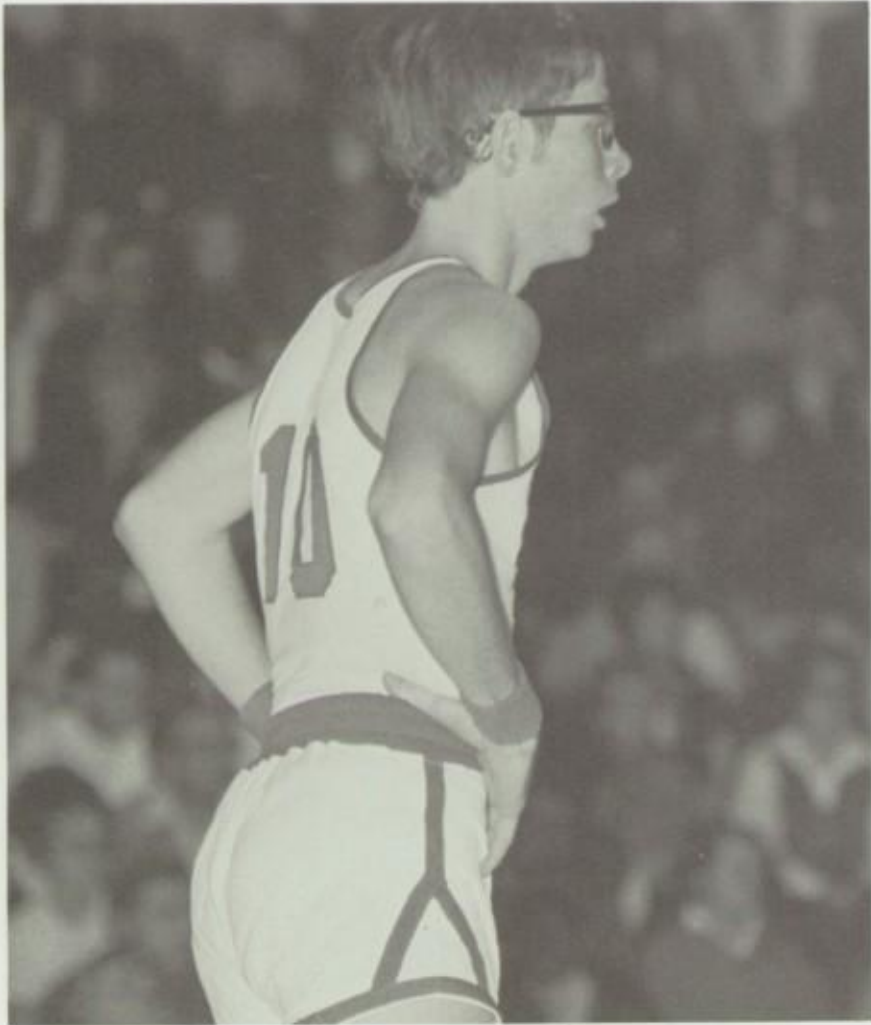

Other factors, such as ball recovery, should be taken into account when speaking of an undefeated team. Mark Adams led City with 107 recoveries, with the next person being John Willey with 69. All these factors placed City in the No. 1 ranked position for nearly the entire season.

The Pink Imps were not as successful this year, turning in a record of 5-15. Larry Williams was high point man with 215 points and Tony Wojasinski with 91 points.

Semi-State

1972 Sectional was a record breaking event for Elston. Al Fleming earned his 1,000th point during the first game, becoming the third Devil to accomplish this feat. Fleming also scored 992½ team points, bettering the previous record of 992. Mark Adams broke the record of O'Neil Simmons with his 116 assists. As a unit, City captured a new gym scoring mark of 124 points in one game, making 100 by the third quarter.

Elston began tourney play by defeating Roger's 97-45. Continuing their drive, they crushed rival LaPorte 100-77, shooting 84% at the free throw line. The Sectional title was assured as City beat South Central 124-43, with the reserve squad playing the balance of the game.

Defeating Knox by a score of 91-56, City walked through Regional. On Saturday, they played Portage, easily winning 82-58. Portage had upset St. Joe in action the previous night.

Semi-state proved to be the roughest time for City. After a very well fought battle against Lafayette Jeff, the Devils were victors, at 78-64. Isiah Williams and Rick Sexson were serious threats from the beginning. The night game shattered the dreams of thousands of City followers. No. 2 ranked Gary West edged Elston by one point in overtime play. Excellent teamwork and fan support could not outdo the unparalleled odds. City just did not get the needed breaks. The glory march was halted as the Devils suffered their only defeat, of 83-84. In the eyes and hearts of Elston, they still reigned as No. 1.

Individual Wrestlers Prove Victorious

With a 0-10 season, the 1972 edition of the Red Devil wrestling team was not successful as a unit. However individual members did achieve victories. Junior John Matthews, 101 weight class, ended the year with a 6-3 record as did senior Steve Eldridge. The best record, 8-1, was earned by senior John Fithian, who moved from the 148 weight class to the 155 class, for the remainder of the season.

The grapplers were workers with proof in their ten lettermen. At the Knox Tourney, City placed second out of eight, losing first place by only one point.

Divers Improve Team Format

Coach Ed Jonas gave Elston something they have never had before, a diving squad. This extra branch of the Devils was made possible by traveling to LaPorte for practice. Divers Dick Fekete, Jim Pilecki, Gary Udell, Jim Kassen, Matt Fithian, and John Hoskam gave City the added push for their much improved season of 5-1.

Paul Swedenberg contributed his share to the team in free style competition, missing a new record by only 3/10ths of a second. Co-Captains Scott Warren and Bruce Powalski were among the ten members who received letters this year.

City Runners Set New Track Records

Placing 4th in the regional, the 1971 track team turned in winning scores for the season. Senior Steve Snyder, senior Terry Rusbolt, junior Bill Garrett, and junior Mark Adams qualified as the mile relay team in the sectional, earning their position in regional play. Also qualifying was junior broad-jumper Wayne Edwards. Valiant efforts were made by the remainder of the squad with 26 lettermen as proof. Devil runners set two new records this year. Terry Rusbolt ran the mile in 4 minutes and 31.6 seconds, while Steve Snyder set a mark of 50.6 seconds in the 440.

The "B" squad also had a fine year taking 4 of 7 meets. With a one point win over Portage, they later defeated Valparaiso, Hammond Morton, and Highland.

For the first time in 17 years, the 1971 golf team won the sectionals. Ending the season with one loss to Bridgman, they placed first in the conference. A rare scene occurred: Fans saw the final home match against Bridgman and Dowagiac. The Devils avenged their loss and turned in a 24 win record for the year.

Seniors Joe Tanski, Larry Kniola, Tom Lernihan, Jim Carson, and junior John LaRocco were the five starting lettermen, each averaging less than 80 strokes a meet. John LaRocco was chosen most valuable player.

Devils End 23-7 Year

Coach Dave Parry led the 1971 Red Devil baseball squad to a victorious season of 23 wins and 7 losses. Producing 19 lettermen the team itself was well rounded. Most valuable player, Jeff Kalil struck out 101 men, while junior Mike Sosinski had a one earned run average in 40 innings. Thirty-four RBI's by senior Larry Dombkowski put fear into the hearts of his opponents.

A close game with East Chicago Roosevelt and a Munster defeat gave the Devils the East Chicago Tourney title. Another highlight of the year was Kalil's 9 inning no-hitter, with 21 strike outs against South Bend Riley.

Rough Trails Challenge Cyclists

Only two things were essential for membership in City's newest sport club: courage and a cycle. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Bruemmer, the cyclists tackled trail and dune riding. The Cycle Club also took field trips to southern Indiana, weather and weekends permitting.

Bowlers Make Perfection A Goal

A chance to better their scores while winning trophies drew many bowlers to Bowling Club. Sponsored by Mr. Evett, the club met every Tuesday and Thursday evenings. Teams of four students competed against each other in the battle for the league trophies.

Ski Bums Conquer Snowy Slopes

Despite the possible risk of broken bones, 85 ski enthusiasts converged at Ski Valley, La-Porte, on every possible Thursday. Led by sponsors Mr. Kerwin and Miss Milliken, the skiers applied classroom lessons to the mastering of professional techniques. Ski trips were arranged for the members to Swiss Valley and Carousal, Michigan.

Brain And Brawn Unite In Matches

Demanding brainpower instead of muscles, Mr. Shanks recruited Elston's chess fans and formed Chess Club. Competing in matches, students analyzed winning game forms.

Both mental and physical concentration were required in Golf Club, sponsored by Mr. Arthur. Members received professional technical advice.

"This is a very exciting experience. It is a tremendous honor since any coach in the Chicago area can tell you there must be six or seven coaches better than I. I feel very humble." These were the words spoken by Coach Doug Adams when he was named Coach of the Year last spring at Atlanta, Ga. Coach Adams attributed his success to trying to outsmart the opposition. At the time of the award, he had compiled a win-loss record of 298-62. During those 14 years as the varsity coach, his teams have won 14 sectional titles, 5 regional titles, 1 semi-state, and 1 state. The Devils have been ranked in the top ten 13 times since Coach Adams took over.

Coach of the Year was not based upon the current season's record, but on three deciding factors: over-all coaching record, professional honors, and contribution to the sport.

Elston Greets Dr. Fields

In 1971, the position of Superintendent vacated by Mr. A. K. Smith, was assumed by Dr. Charles E. Fields.

Upon release from the Navy, Dr. Fields served as a high school counselor and later as junior high principal in Knox, Indiana from 1950 to 1956. Then from 1956 to 1960 he served as high school principal in Winamac, Indiana. In 1960 he moved to Goshen, serving as high school principal until 1966 when he became Superintendent of Goshen schools. His latest move was to Michigan City to become Superintendent.

In addition to his educational duties, Dr. Fields served on many state and local administration boards and committees.

Duties Are Shared By 9 Persons

To run an effective school system, responsibilities must be spread evenly. Therefore, the Michigan City Area School Board, which represented the public, and Dr. Fields relied on the assistance of two men to help with the various duties.

Serving as Associate Superintendent, Wallace Yentes was in charge of all finances for the area schools. Dr. Robert Raisor was responsible for determining the actual educational processes at the secondary school levels.

When In Doubt, Ask A Principal

Bulging portfolios of responsibilities greeted Elston's administration this year as a result of Rogers High School claiming two of our former assistant principals.

Principal, Warren Jones took charge of student programming, the school calendar, the master schedule and any miscellaneous problems brought to his attention.

Assistant principals Douglas Adams and Allan Whitlow were responsible for attendance, tardiness, and athletic eligibility as well as building maintenance and summer school.

Secretaries Run Elston Smoothly

A school is only as efficient as its secretaries. Elston was fortunate in this respect. Six secretaries were responsible for helping the school day to pass smoothly.

Secretary to the principal, Mrs. Lucille Larson, managed the mounds of paperwork. Mrs. Carol Fisch added PBX operation to her secretarial work, while Miss Harriet Wright combated needless absences and tardiness as attendance secretary. Mrs. Phyllis Novak, rental secretary, collected book rentals and squeeze funds. As Vocational secretary, Mrs. Beverly Chapman handled the shorthand and typing for the Vocational Department. New this year, Mrs. Eulalah Smith, did the Shorthand and typing for the library.

Assistants Expand Communications

Devoting an hour each day, Counselors Assistants and Office Messengers ran errands, delivered call-outs and performed simple clerical tasks for office personnel.

Even broken computers provided Office Assistants with a chance to prove their devotion to duty. Several girls gave up a Sunday afternoon at the start of the year to assign lockers since the computer refused to work.

Occupations Building Assistants were added this year to aid Beverly Chapman, Vocational Secretary; Departmental Coordinators, Gordon Robison and Richard Presser; and Director of Vocational Education, Thomas Sparks. They answered the phone and ran errands.

Faculty Homework Involves Evaluations

Elston Sr. High has been a member of the North Central Accrediting Agency since 1907. This agency allowed the administration and faculty to "help keep the educational standards high" according to Principal Warren Jones.

A committee selected by the agency examined Elston every seven years. Prior to the agency's evaluation, the faculty and administration underwent self-evaluation.

These will be compared in 1973 with the evaluation of the examiners, and necessary corrections will then be made. Six years later, the paper work begins all over again.

Auxiliary Team Proves Valuable

Hungry bodies and the aroma of good food brought a daily rush of students to the new cafeteria located in the Occupations Building basement. The addition of a sandwich line to the meal selection doubled the responsibilities of the cooks. The building expansion also increased the workloads of the custodians. An extra man was detailed to this area exclusively.

Remedying all hurts from cuts to headaches, the new school nurse, Mrs. Wineland, became a familiar face in time of need.

SENIOR Spirit Plus Devil Power

For most seniors, their last year at Elston was a memorable one. Two ideas were prevalent in their minds. They wondered about their future out of high school, and how to make the most of their senior year.

Steering Committee representatives chose the graduation caps, gowns, and announcements. They sold tickets for the class play, "F.L.I.P.P.E.D.," and planned the Senior Banquet. The class officers worked with the Steering Committee, coordinating Squeeze activities. The major responsibility of these seniors was the promotion of class and school spirit.

Isaac C. Elston's 1972 Seniors

1972 marked the 100th graduating ceremony from Elston Sr. High School. 560 students received their diplomas, in contrast to three graduating students, all girls, in 1876. Graduation was to be changed by the boys wearing red gowns, and the girls white.

Throughout the years, traditions and records were set. The 100th class established a first in the history of Elston. The undefeated Red Devils set a perfect season record of 20-0.

1972 was also the year that the students acquired their student lounge, the "Devils Den."

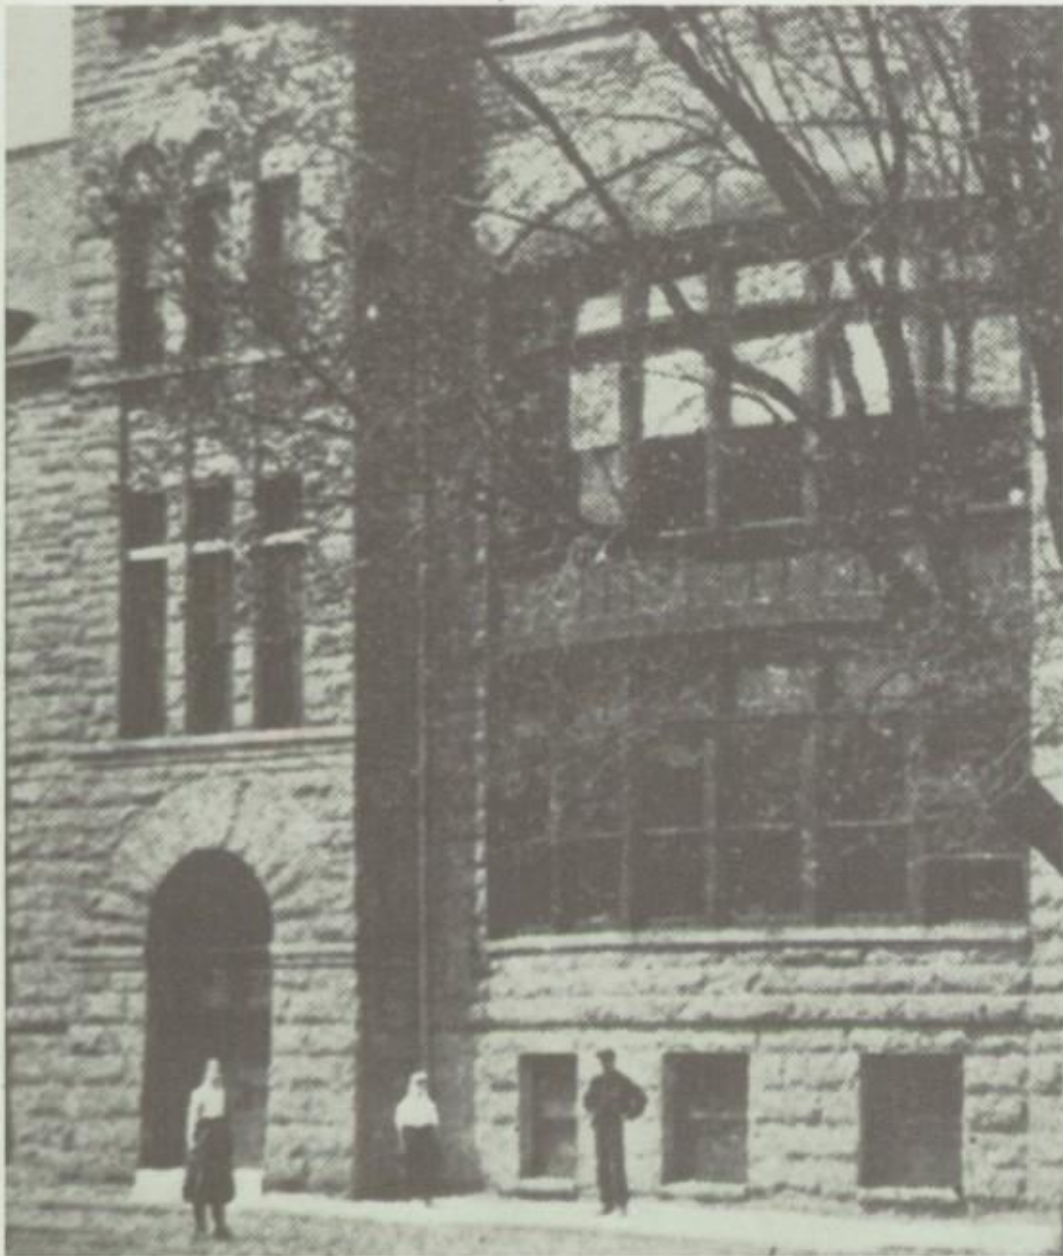

This showed the great spirit and loyalty of the 100th graduating class, the class of 1972.

Revitalized JUNIORS Hassle With

Faced with a few major objectives, Elston's Junior Class began preparations early for the ensuing year.

The first obstacle facing the Class of '73 was the renewing of spirit and unity. A beach party and a play, entitled, "The Woman at Dead Oaks," were used to achieve this end. To challenge the Seniors in the Squeeze, the Juniors sponsored projects and dances. The class' final responsibility was the staging of a successful prom. Junior Concessions at the Devil football and basketball games were expected to support these plans.

Catch The Sweet Scent Of News

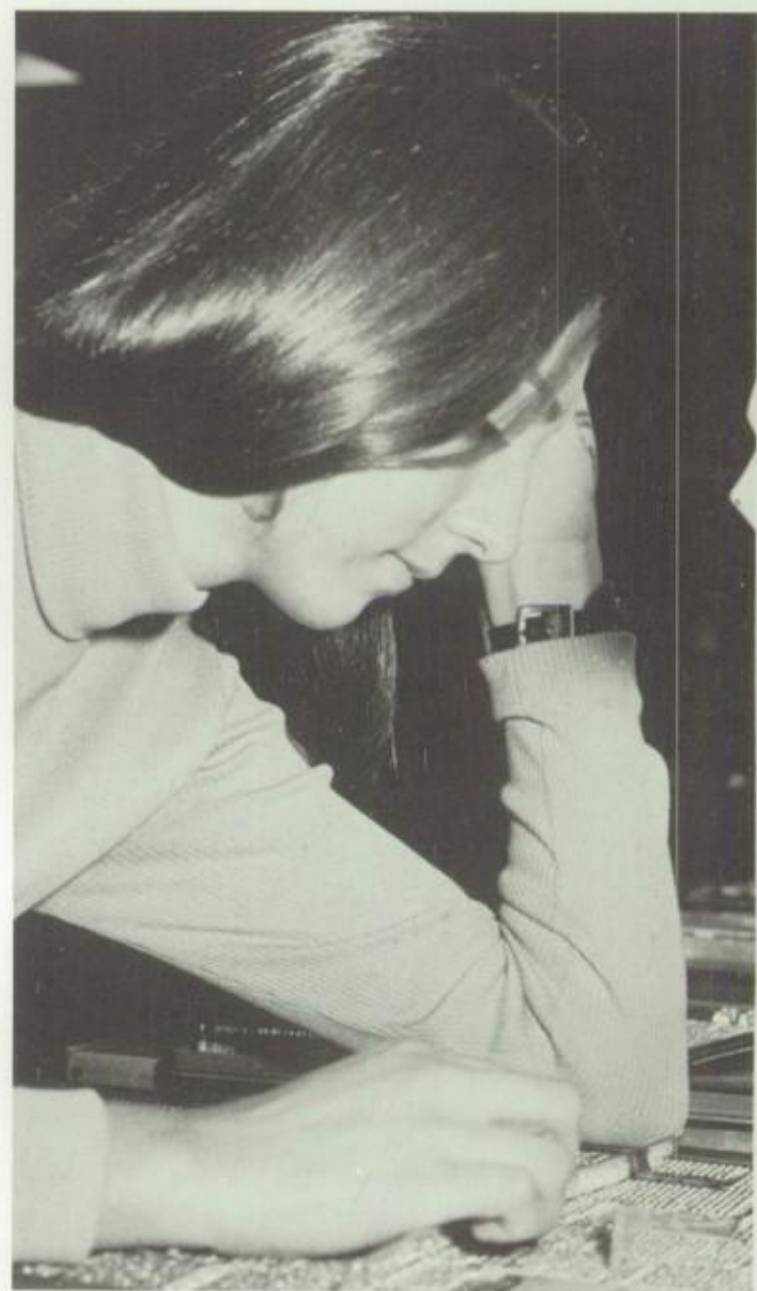

Soft words, sweet and low, don't always communicate those special thoughts. Catch her eye and tickle her nose with flower arrangements from WRIGHT'S FLOWERS, 1004 E. Michigan Blvd. She deserves the best, whether for prom or just for her smile.

A combination of wax and pride is the Oldsmobile shine. The "good guys" at ORBIT OLDS, 625 E. US 20, add special deals and high performance standards to an extra ounce of faith they have in the cars they sell. Single out the Olds customer by the gleam on his face and car.

"Teen Scene," edited by three high school seniors, is designed to promote teens and their activities. The NEWS-DISPATCH, 121 W. Michigan Blvd. is interested in serving the youth of Michigan City and fulfilling its duties as a newspaper.

Upper Right: Roses appear to be the key to Sherri Palmer's heart. Left: Perched upon an Oldsmobile Toronado, Heather Connett and Alan Green dream and scheme. Above: Learning and practicing the basics of news writing keep Roberta Nasser busy.

Keep An Eye On Fashion

Downtown at the corner of Sixth St. and Franklin Square, GRIEGER'S clothing store offers quality merchandise and efficient service. Name-brand fashions coupled with competent sales personnel make GRIEGER'S the place to go to solve those fashion problems and supply clothing needs.

Happiness is a warm puppy and a lick on the cheek. Both are available through PUPPY PALACE, Marquette Mall, where it's one kiss and you're in love. From petite to humungous, there is a size, shape, and color to please every canine lover.

Hair styles are changing and today's young men know MID-TOWN BARBERS, 113 W. Seventh St., is the place that caters to their needs. You can walk away from a haircut with a smile on your face when you place your faith in MID-TOWN BARBERS.

Machinery Yields Today's Products

Being a major employer in M. C. for over three decades, JOY MANUFACTURING, 900 Woodland Ave., has helped our city grow and develop. JOY'S air compression technology has advanced along with our development.

PHILLIPS DRILL, E. Dunes Hwy., makes anchors that hold machines and other equipment to concrete floors, ending "concrete jitters." PHILLIPS makes things that hold longer, for greater stability.

Is your present car "bugging" you because of payments and maintenance? ECONOMY AUTOS, 5000 Franklin St., can solve your woes with a dependable Volkswagen, known for stingy gas mileage.

No Matter What The Hobby, Go In Style

It doesn't matter what the season is. Whether 30 below or 80 above, at B & E MARINE, 500 Center St., you can find what you need for hobby or dream. For summer they provide boating pleasure and during the wintery months they supply you with snowmobiling needs.

Relax and enjoy your leisure time with hobbies supplied by VAIL'S HOBBY SHOP, Marquette Mall, or 417 Franklin St. Visit VAIL'S for personal gift ideas and let VAIL'S help you with all your hobby needs.

The "individual look" is making fashion headlines. Sales personnel at EINHORN'S, Marquette Mall, can help you develop and achieve that look through name-brand clothing and professional know-how.
